Position Statement:

I bring to the table a lifetime of experience, starting with working in the woods with my dad and learning a strong work ethic, including a full day of hard work, being to work on time, doing the things needed to get the job done, going the extra mile, working hard. I also worked as a team member in all my future positions. I mention these experiences because they form the basic foundation of who I am; a strong team player, a strong leader and strong people person.

The highest priority for us (the Assembly) at this time is to find and hire a new City Manager. We need to find a strong, positive leader who will have the ability to read the pulse of our community both politically and publicly. They need to have the courage to make tough, decisive decisions and be even a better listener.

We need to balance our budget. In light of the State's situation we will need to continue looking for efficiencies and revenues. Next step would be evaluating and prioritizing what we are required to do by Charter, then looking at the other things we do.

The problem of housing in our community is at the top of our list to help solve. I believe we need to incentivize the private sector to accomplish this. There are over 300 units being built at this time, both private and public. We have four ordinances in the queue to help the private sector move forward.

Greg Fisk
Candidate: Mayor

Name: Greg Fisk

Office Sought: Mayor

Residence Address: 421 Kennedy St.

Mailing Address: P.O. Box 20628

Website: www.fiskformayor.com

Occupation: Development Consulting

Children's Name(s): Ian Fisk

Length of Residency in Juneau: 34 years

Education: BA Geography, Indiana University

Political and Government Positions: CBJ Docks and Harbors Board (10 years)
Fisheries Development Committee (9 years)
Juneau Economic Development Council Board (6 years)
CBJ Task Force: Basing NOAA Fisheries & Oceanographic Functions in Alaska (Chair, 2014)
Accomplishments include: New cruiseship docks, Auke Bay Loading Facility, Downtown Revitalization; Plan for relocating federal fisheries science jobs from Seattle to Juneau.

Business and Professional Positions:	SeaFisk Consulting, Owner (development consultancy - fisheries, started 1988)
Service Organization Memberships:	Downtown Business Association Board (current Treasurer)
Other appropriate information:	Greg Fisk's economic development work has taken him across Canada, the Arctic and Scandinavia, to the Far East, and to all areas of Alaska. He's contracted with the University's Marine Advisory Program, western Alaska Community Development groups, and worked on the Alaska Fisheries Revitalization Program. He has fished for salmon, and prawns, and still longlines halibut. He's an active hiker, skier and swimmer.

Position Statement:

State government remains Juneau's economic mainstay - 20% of jobs and 28% of payroll. We must work hard to protect that base. But we also need to work effectively to grow and diversify our economy - tourism, seafood, mining, attracting active retirees, and many other areas. Examples?

- A CBJ task force I chaired on moving NOAA Alaska fisheries science jobs from Seattle laid out a specific plan that would bring 175 high paying jobs to Juneau.
- Downtown Revitalization is very important for all of Juneau. It bolsters our Capital City status, supports tourism growth, and addresses key housing issues.

The last point is critical. Our extremely tight housing market – particularly rentals – is the biggest inhibitor to economic growth. The shortfall is pegged at 700 units, but is actually higher given the many substandard units now occupied.

- Let's streamline permitting, and put our revenue bond authority behind housing development to reduce developer costs and lower risk.
- There's high demand downtown from both younger and older populations. Top quality circulator transit has proven extremely effective in stimulating housing / mixed use investment – and it will be good for tourism, reduce downtown congestion, and add convenience for Juneau work commuters.
- The Auke Bay town center idea supports desirable housing options and further development of UAS.

And, we actually have resources to make these investments with no increases in sales or property taxes. Practical, effective ideas. That's my approach and why I'm asking for your vote.

Service Organization Memberships: Juneau World Affairs Council

Position Statement:

CBJ must work to assure we have a stable financial plan that we can use to provide the services the citizens need and want. Possible loss of state and federal dollars, including loss of jobs and possible tax changes at the state level, requires Juneau to look closely at its budget. Local funding for our schools will continue to put pressure on our budget. The Juneau Economic Plan, changes in tobacco tax and sales tax policy, and finding efficiencies in government have helped. I will continue to look at how to grow our economy and CBJ revenues.

Position Statement:

It is time for a change and new perspective within the Juneau School Board. When decisions are being made by the board, I want to ensure they are in the best interest of the student. Sometimes the answer is not always the popular choice. In the past couple of years, I feel we have gotten away from putting the student first. We need to take questions or concerns from parents (and students) and ensure we are vetting the concern and incorporating it in to the outcome through the board decision making process. The board is elected to serve the public – students first – and we need to ensure we are working towards positive outcomes to increase learning and promote student achievement. The state of our economy is continuing to see a downward trend and the education of our youth and our future has been suffering. There will be tough decisions ahead that I am ready to face head on and stand up for what is right.

Hi, I am Jeff Redmond, and I am running for the Juneau School Board! I bring to the table a fresh perspective to an old education machine, and my enthusiasm to better meet the needs of our young learners. One of my primary objectives is to open a two-way communication between my service on the board and the community I am serving. Maintaining an active Facebook profile and other social media will bring back a conversation that has been missing in many aspects of our lives since the advent of radio.

In Today's world, there is no longer a need for top-down representation. With the ease of access to social media, why would we not have a two-way conversation between the public, and those serving the public? Do you have an opinion? Tell me about it on my Contact Form on www.schoolboardjeff.com, or on my Facebook Page. Alternately, shoot me an email, at schoolboardjeff@gmail.com. Your issue is my issue, let's tackle it together.

I do not have black and white solutions to every issue facing Juneau's Schools, but what I do have is a sense of partnership with the population I serve, and at every turn I will be working with you and your neighbors, the people that elect me to represent them.

Position Statement:

It is an honor to serve on the Juneau School Board. I take my role seriously and work hard to be informed on the issues and have a pulse on local desires for all our kid's education. They are our best hope for the future, for a healthy community, economy and a vibrant Alaska. Several years ago the Board set a direction to providing a world class education. The Juneau School District is currently involved in making many changes, such as adopting higher standards; prioritizing professional development; adopting engaging, relevant up-to-date materials; and providing a safe engaging learning environment where staff, families and community are all respected. Data shows our direction is working as evidence by a record 86 percent graduation rate. While progress, other indicators show there is much to do, so our kids achieve and have the education our community wants; like, all kids reading by third grade, arts, career tech, technology literacy.

In the past few years state funding has not kept up with costs and reduced supports for kids. As a twelve year school board member and elected President of the Association of Alaska School Boards (AASB), I am in a unique position of having knowledge and many relationships with education and political leaders to advocate for our children's education. While resources alone will not make for a quality education, they do matter. I will continue to work hard to inform parents and community members in advocating together locally and statewide in prioritizing our children's education.

Position Statement:

I have always had a deep interest in education. I believe education is important and quality education can notably influence society and a person's life. I chose to be a candidate because I believe the school board needs new members and fresh ideas to achieve the goal of providing high quality education to Juneau's youth. I also want to bridge the gap between concerned parents and the school board, a problem that has been growing in recent years.

My profession has provided me with almost 15 years of experience in dealing with controversial and allocative issues. I approach all issues with an open and analytical mind, seeking to broaden my knowledge before analyzing and debating the issue. I believe any debate among school board members should be verbal and in a public meeting. This will increase transparency and enhance discussion. I hope that will lead to more public participation, which is necessary to make an informed decision.

Most of my positions can be categorized into one statement: providing a world class education to all students, regardless of learning level. This includes providing help to those students that need it but also providing a challenging education to more advanced students. I also believe that pre-K education and small class sizes in K-2 are investments that make sense and supported by decades of research. Furthermore, I seek to increase college preparation opportunities, enhance cultural education, encourage a creative and interactive learning environment and provide any needed support to our greatest asset, teachers.
