Please note: The State of Alaska, Department of Health and Social services changed their reporting format yesterday. There are still some issues with syncing data. As an example, they reported an additional confirmed case yesterday, but did not notify us that they did so until today. This will settle out with time. Also, please note, there were also some discrepancies between the testing numbers on the BRH data chart and what is reported in the table above. The data in the table above is accurate based on the EOC conversation this afternoon at 1:30

EOC Highlights

Unified Command section heads met today to touch base.

We had a coordination meeting today with shelter providers on how best to provide consolidated services to people experiencing homelessness. The meeting was productive and a tactics identified to assure both decompressed sheltering and feeding services were provided. On Tuesday morning, the Glory Hall will be closing their 3rd floor sleeping area. The JACC will be receiving any additional overnight needs. JACC will be open from 8:00 pm to 8:00 am. Glory Hall will focus on feeding people. Location to be determined, pick up a meal so people aren't congregating to eat.

Issues in the critical path continue to be planning for quarantine and isolation facilities and childcare for essential employees. Logistics staff continue to source PPE and other mission critical supplies. There are sufficient stocks on site for the time being. BRH is working on increasing Oxygen supplies.

Supply chain is operational and stores are reporting fewer out of stock items.

BRH is working with Hoonah who is currently not allowing for medical waivers for community members to return home. This has been referred to Legal for additional investigation. Rorie has reached out to Hoonah's City Manager to try and resolve as well.

Beginning to work on directives for employee who tested positive for COVID-19 returning to work.

Epidemiology has started to back date COVID 19 cases on the state's dashboard to the date of the first onset of symptoms or the date of when test occurred, whichever is earliest. As an example, we received notification of our first positive COVID-19 case on March 22nd, but DHSS now reports March 10 based on that person's reported symptoms.

Gown is the current pinch point at BRH. Current burn calculator shows an 8 day supply. Working on substitutes.

We will start to report out on costs of COVID response to date. We are working on capturing accurate reporting mechanisms and will provide better numbers in the near future.

CBJ Costs to Date:

- $209,000 Personnel Services costs to date
