APL20160001	Per appeal, chg Prpty Type/Use Code from Resi w/Apt to MIMP, chg main house from 3 stry to 2.5 stry. Inspect site, TWO, updated sketch and revalued. Review appraisal w/jcs. Adj to structure were due to appraisal comps from 2014 sale prices vs 2015 assessments. These comps suggest about 3% per yr mkt increase in this price range. Thus, the appraiser's opinion of value can be treaded at 3% for a time adjusted value. AND - Land: Comparing the developed potion of the site to neighboring, similarly developed sites yields a value of $425K. Comparing the undeveloped potion of the subject site with other nearby upland sites yields a value of about $140K. Giving consideration to the no-build and greenbelt restrictions at 50% of the total value gives that portion of the site about $70K in contributory value for a total site value of $495,000. APL20210341	This is a summary of corrections to the Jordan Creek Condo assessed values for assessment year 2021. Review of the values indicated that the land value had not been fully extracted during prior market analysis. Because the State statutes specify that the leasehold estates are to be considered real property and the legal documents specify "that the fee and leasehold estates not merge but remain separate and distinct entities" the main parcel (owned by the corporation) shall be retained and shall reflect the land value based on the CBJ land model. The apportioned land value shall therefore be extracted from the purchase prices to determine the value per SF for the improvements when analyzing the sales and the leasehold estate parcels shall be retained as real property parcels as mandated by State statute and shall reflect the sales value not attributable to the land. This is a summary of corrections to the Jordan Creek Condo assessed values for assessment year 2021. Review of the values indicated that the land value had not been fully extracted during prior market analysis. Because the State statutes specify that the leasehold estates are to be considered real property and the legal documents specify "that the fee and leasehold estates not merge but remain separate and distinct entities" the main parcel (owned by the corporation) shall be retained and shall reflect the land value based on the CBJ land model. The apportioned land value shall therefore be extracted from the purchase prices to determine the value per SF for the improvements when analyzing the sales and the leasehold estate parcels shall be retained as real property parcels as mandated by State statute and shall reflect the sales value not attributable to the land.

Reroof of office building.

This is a summary of corrections to the Jordan Creek Condo assessed values for assessment year 2021. Review of the values indicated that the land value had not been fully extracted during prior market analysis. Because the State statutes specify that the leasehold estates are to be considered real property and the legal documents specify "that the fee and leasehold estates not merge but remain separate and distinct entities" the main parcel (owned by the corporation) shall be retained and shall reflect the land value based on the CBJ land model. The apportioned land value shall therefore be extracted from the purchase prices to determine the value per SF for the improvements when analyzing the sales and the leasehold estate parcels shall be retained as real property parcels as mandated by State statute and shall reflect the sales value not attributable to the land.

This is a summary of corrections to the Jordan Creek Condo assessed values for assessment year 2021. Review of the values indicated that the land value had not been fully extracted during prior market analysis. Because the State statutes specify that the leasehold estates are to be considered real property and the legal documents specify "that the fee and leasehold estates not merge but remain separate and distinct entities" the main parcel (owned by the corporation) shall be retained and shall reflect the land value based on the CBJ land model. The apportioned land value shall therefore be extracted from the purchase prices to determine the value per SF for the improvements when analyzing the sales and the leasehold estate parcels shall be retained as real property parcels as mandated by State statute and shall reflect the sales value not attributable to the land.

APL20150072	Estimated 50% of this site is affected by wetness. The site also does not have direct street access, which could likely be resolved by the owner granting an easement. Base site value is equitable in the neighborhood at 11 PSF. Adjustment for wetness and access results in an estimation of 45% good overall. This lot is not necessary to the support of the church use or church parking use of the adjacent sites and is therefore taxable. Change site value from 50,900 to 31,500.	CLOSE	04/08/2015

	The parcel was being valued as if commercial. Based on location and zoning the parcel was revalued. Trending was removed for the 2022 assessment year and the neighborhood market adjustment was applied. Based on measurements provided by the appellant 10% of the parcel is determined to be used for parking for the church and is therefore granted a Religious exemption for that portion of the parcel.

	The parcel was being valued as if commercial. Based on location and zoning the parcel was revalued. Additionally, the parcel was valued based on a lot size of 18,611 square feet. Review found that the actual legal lot size is 15,060. Trending was removed for the 2022 assessment year, the parcel was revalued based on the correct size, and the neighborhood market adjustment was applied. Based on measurements provided by the appellant .02% of the parcel is determined to be used as a playground for the church and is therefore granted a Religious exemption for that portion of the parcel.

APL20210145	05/28/21 per appeal property was purchase with adjacent property for $736K from JAMHI and was previously fully exempt. Purchase price for this property $363K, since purchase $120K in renovations. Bldg is in fact a triplex (#1 6bd/3ba #2 5bd/3ba #3 1bd/3ba) with very odd bed and bath arrangement compared to a typical triplex. At time of purchased property was very dated and not in the best condition. Estimate of value provided by appellant indicates range of 499K -> 525K. At the time of initial 2021 assessment, property was valued as a 4-plex. Nghbd: Lemon Creek_R_4 -> Lemon Creek_R_2_3. Changed model code Comm 4-Plex -> Res Triplex, revise sketch per building plans. Expect future renovation of this property into something more acceptable by the market. Re-value.\ al	CLOSE	04/07/2021

Several comparably sized but newer homes are valued less than subject

Action:

Review 2015 REFI appraisal. Revise sketch per appraisal (increase GLA 1544 -> 1600), revise garage (420sf ->429sf), Deck config. Remove CTC $15K which appears to be relic from 2017 appeal. Re-value results in increase to AV. Recommend withdrawal

Explain to appellant the differences between subject and appellant supplied comparables. Prev appeal had resulted in appraiser applying a $15K CTC resulting in inequity for subject, remove CTC as this should been part of the appeal only and not carried over to future valuation years. Recognize some inequity does exist within this neighborhood. Consider Q3.5 for all homes within this subdivision

OFFER REJECTED (N/C). WAITING CALL BACK JCS

Chair Epstein noted that Mr. Styrwold was not present to give verbal testimony. Mr. Sahnw said that Mr. Styrwold sent an email and suggested that he would not be present. He did not ask for a delay of the hearing.

Ms. Potter referred to the email traffic, which she provided to the board members to review. The Board read the correspondence.

Dora Prince presented the case for the Assessor, reading from the prepared information in the meeting packet.

Mr. Gaguine asked about the math used in the Ms. Prince's "Analysis of Recent Sales" in which she stated that sales throughout the borough over the past three year period were analyze, yielding a rate of change of 3.41% per year, and how she had applied the math to this property in particular.

said there were a number of ways to look at this and the appellant was focusing on the appraisal from 2014. The contract sales price was $439,000 but the property owner's appraisal price was $441,000.

The only number that is market value is the appraiser's opinion of market value. You can pay less, but that doesn't mean the property is worth less. Ms. Price said the difference also was the timing and the months the valuation was based upon.

Mr. Gaguine asked why the rate was not based on the 2015 appraisal. Mr. Sahnw said that when the assessor performs a ratio study to determine the rate of change over the previous years, typically sales are used, but there are few sales reports due to Alaska being a non-disclosure state.

Therefore, we use three years of sales and take into the time and adjust, this is how we arrive at 3.41% increase over three years. In response to Mr. Gaguine's question, Ms. Potter said if an appraisal is brought in within the last 12 months, the Assessor takes that value as fact and makes no adjustment. Mr. Gaguine referred to another case that was done differently in the past year and Ms. Potter said she had no information on that matter. She explained the greater increases in value recently and said she took a longer look to prevent wild swings in valuation.

In response to Mr. Moseley's question, Ms. Potter said an appraisal is a more accurate reflection of market value than a sale price.

Mr. Sahnw said the assessments are based on mass appraisal and he explained that the changes in value varied between neighborhoods based on recent information obtained.

Mr. Gaguine said he was trying to understand the relationship between $439,400 – the 2015 assessed value, and the $457,900 value this year – it was more than a 3.41% increase and he didn't understand how the 3.41% figure was determined. Mr. Sahnw said that the difference was a 4.2% and that was a market adjustment for that neighborhood. If it was used as a sale in the sales ratio analysis it would have been adjusted at that 3.41% rate. Mr. Epstein asked if the 3.41% was the percentage of change in the sales price over a period of time, but not the assessed value and Mr. Sahnw said yes, over a three year period. Ms. Potter said it was an annual trending rate developed out of the software used.

Ms. Potter

explained her methodology to determine fair market value.

Mr. Epstein referred to Mr. Hartle's memo from 2013, which emphasized the fact that to grant an appeal, the panel needed to find an improper valuation method used, or a fundamentally wrong principle of valuation and he did not see that in this case. There is nothing to show the Assessors Office is acting in a fraudulent manner. There may be differences of opinion, in terms of the dollar amount involved but when the state assessor conducted training he pointed out that the Board had to make a finding that a valuation was grossly disproportionate and that is not shown in this case. The Assessor used a common method for assessing this property, it is not fundamentally wrong and he said this was a fair assessment of the property.

Mr. Moseley said if the appellant could prove improper or excessive, setting aside unequal, that could be a be a valid reason if there was evidence. Mr. Moseley said the appellant wrote that his assessment was excessive. Mr. Epstein said that may be the case but there has to be evidence provided to prove this. Mr. Moseley asked if the appraisal he submitted was part of the appeal.

Mr. Sahnaw said the information on page 5 with the 3.41% and recent sales was confusing, but the intent was to show that if you looked at this valuation from any one of three approaches, the number came out higher than the assessment, and when considered like everyone else, it came out at the noticed valuation and was lower than if merely time adjusting his purchase price. We are recommending no change, as it is not the policy of the Assessor's office to raise values, even if this information is discovered through the appeal process. He explained the methodology for mass appraisal and the assessor can examine a property individually. It was not an error to do mass appraisal, as we are not able to assess similar to fee appraisal methods, due to the amount of time.

MOTION, by Moseley, to grant the appeal, and asked for a no vote, based upon the reasons provided by the Assessor.

Mr. Gaguine said he could not vote no on this motion. He said the assessment was $439,400 in 2015 and a figure of 3.41% as the increase in value and it seemed arbitrary to say that the proper result was anything other than $439,400 increased by 3.41%. Ms. Potter said the 3.41% was what was used on sale prices to trend them to January 1. The Assessor applies a value to the properties in mass, and uses the market adjustment as a whole. This particular neighborhood, Montana Creek, has strong sales and that is the market that has nothing to do with that time trended sales price. Mr. Gaguine disagreed with the Assessor's reasoning.

Mr. Moseley said Mr. Gaguine's comments made some sense, but that was not what was under consideration as that was only one mechanism for assessing the price. Mr. Epstein said that the Board does not make it's determine its actions on past assessments and this is a year to year process.

Roll call:

Aye: Gaguine

Nay: Moseley, Epstein

Motion failed, the appeal was denied and the assessment stands as noticed.

CMR2007-00002	Proposal to dredge approximately 3,000 CY of accumulated sediment material from a 400 ft by 110 ft area adjacent to the AML docking facility utilizing a barge-mounted clam shell bucket and crane. The proposed dredging would deepen the bottom contour of the area by approximately 2 ft. The dredged material would then be deposited onto a barge, transported to the proposed disposal area in Gastineau Channel, where the dredged material would be disposed of as an in-water disposal area of dredged materials. It is estimated that the initial dredging and disposal operation would take approximately seven working days to complete. See packet for additional proposal.	CLOSED	01/24/2007

APL20200101	After review it was determined that an override entry had applied the vacant land rate of $40.50/SF rather than the improved land rate of $40/SF. Correcting the land rate returns the land value from $842,800 to $832,300. Appellant accepted review findings. 06/10/20 MD	CLOSE	04/22/2020

APL20220278	Accepted by appellant via default/no reply by 07/20/2020 Issue: The property is over-valued. It does not have year round water. The foundation is cinder block, built in 1955, at the time the building codes probably did not apply and therefore we would not be able to sell it as it. We have no argument with the site valuation, but feel the building assessment is overstated.  Action: Consider land value, N/C. Value main structure as Avg/Good quality cabin, was previously valued as Q2 SFR. Valuation as MiscImp cabin better reflects seasonal nature of the cabin as it is not occupied year round apply 30% depreciation. EYB: 1995->1998 for remaining BSE items (Garage/Decks/EnclP), Neighborhood R_1_5->R_9 Cabin. CMR2005-00001	Excavation of 75 cubic yards of rock material from an area of approximately 0.09 acres located below the high tide line and the mean high water elevation. This material will be used to construct a rock bulkhead approximately 70-feet long and 3-4 feet high to reduce the amount of erosion taking place due to wave action on the applicant's property. The rock bulkhead will be constructed using larger boulders (3-4 feet in diameter) from the beach area in front of the applicant's property. The area behind the rock bulkhead will be backfilled with smaller rocks from the same beach area. Approximately 45 cubic yards of the excavated material will be discharged into 0.013 acres below the high tide line.	CLOSED	12/15/2004

APL20150201	Property sold for $407,000. I spoke with the seller. The appellant also reported the sale price on his appeal form. Because the valley was not subject to a neighborhood-wide canvass, I performed a sales review in which I recalculated the Govern values in the training database, then compared those values to the sale prices to derive neighborhood adjustment factor to apply in Govern. I then recalculated the value of the subject in Govern. The result was $395,000. I then performed a sales comparison approach to value which resulted in a value range of $392,800 to $405,000 with the two most similar properties in the lower end of the range. This suggested a value of $395,000 as well. Proposed changes as follow: N/C to site at 103,800 Chg Imps value from 303,600 to 291,200 Chg AV from 407,400 to 395,000	CLOSE	04/27/2015
