FOREWORD

SINCE the school life of Juneau High School is sufficiently diversified in its activities and so many students have contributed directly to the source material of this yearbook, we have chosen to publish these collected high-lights in a "Students' Edition."

• •

---

DEDICATION

*T*O the two-member Class of 1904,
Mrs. Ebner Kennedy and Mr.
Grover C. Winn, which helped to found our present school activities, and to the Class of 1934, which represents a pronounced thirty-year change in student life, this yearbook is respectfully dedicated.

Manual Arts

It is surprising that J-Hi harbors the craftsmen it does. Whether the work to be done is complex or simple, it is completed with the skill of artisans.

Where architects, engineers, and draftsmen are born.

•

---

Home Economics

It is assured that those J-Hi girls who complete the courses offered by the Home Economics Department are well qualified to fulfil the requirements of home-making.

Where the skills of the home-helper are developed.

High School Memories

The date is nineteen sixty-two,
And I'm getting old and gray.
My thoughts are drifting backward
To my Juneau High School days.

It's been many a year since I scribbled a theme
Or wrote out a book report;
In fact, it's hard to realize
That I used to do things of that sort.

I remember in nineteen thirty-three
When the Taku winds did blow
And they had to close the school house
'Cause the furnaces wouldn't go.

There were times when I liked the school bell
And times when I hated it's sound,
But the time I really hated most
Was when final tests came round.

But when I think of the games and dances
And of wonderful times I had,
It makes me kind of wonder
If the good times don't outshine the bad.

Our athletes were called the Crimson Bears,
Any my thoughts are taking me back
To the days when we all were rooting
For the boys in the Scarlet and Black.

If I had my life to live over,
I think I'd arrange it the same.
I'd wander back to Juneau
And the high school that carries that name.

—Bernice Lovejoy, '37.

Still we owe the excellent appearance and conditions of our school to the board of men who, with tireless and ceaseless energy without compensation, better our conditions of life. To them is due credit for the installation of modern equipment, the calcimining of the building, the facilities for transportation, and the betterment of the school. A mere "thank you" is not sufficient appreciation of the values which we obtain through the group.

SCHOOL BOARD PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To the Students of the Juneau High School:

Seasons come and go; likewise one high school class follows another in rapid succession through the portals of graduation. Those who have not reached that door eagerly look forward to the time when they may be privileged to open it; those who are about to step across its threshold gaze rapturously into the space beyond.

Is a common school education worth while? The answer lies with you. No one can make it worth while except yourself.

The twelve years of common schooling are primarily designed to lay the foundation for a broad, tolerant, democratic, decent American citizenry; to instill within you high ideals of right and justice; to educate you to distinguish between the ugly and the beautiful in life.

Those things are worth while. Gained—and each of you has the power to gain them; they make for a better America, a better Alaska.

In you, the high school students of the day, lies all hope of the future of nation and territory.

R. E. ROBERTSON.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

All civilizations change in response to various pressures from within and without. But until comparatively recent years it has been safe to assume that children would grow up to face approximately the same problems in the same settings their parents have experienced. Such an assumption, although it is still often followed in educational methods, is no longer true. Scientific findings playing upon every phase of our lives tend to undermine entrenched social institutions, to upset traditional beliefs, and to destroy accepted dogmas.

Surely, then, this social change means that the school must seek to develop such qualities as adaptability and open-mindedness. A school which teaches the mere tools of learning—reading, writing, and arithmetic—is quite inadequate to prepare boys and girls to act vigorously and intelligently in meeting the perplexities of the changing scene. A school which teaches an easy and unreasoning obedience to the dictates of arbitrary authority is equally open to question. As the tempo of social change speeds ever faster, the scope and efficiency of the educational system must keep pace with it.

ROBERT S. RAVEN.

• • •

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

School spirit should be a sincere loyalty among all the students to make their school life a most effective one. In the past few years we have made progress in bringing about a more cooperative spirit among the students, but much improvement could be made in the various classes and student activities.

School spirit should mean to each and every student a whole-hearted cooperation, loyal support, and conscientious endeavor to make his school life as efficient as possible and leave lasting pleasant memories.

A. S. DUNHAM.

FOUR NEW TEACHERS IN J-HI

FACULTY

The curriculum of the school was increased this year with the advent of four studies new to us—vocational civics, business training, dramatics, and public speaking. These new courses give the students a larger field from which to choose subjects and also helps to bring out any hidden talents.

Mr. Robert S. Raven, B.A., M.A., Superintendent of the Juneau Public Schools and instructor in biology, was educated at Michigan State College, Washington State College, and the University of Washington.

Mr. Alexander Spence Dunham, B.S., University of Nebraska, came to Juneau in 1929. He is the Principal of the Juneau High School and teaches shop work.

Miss Helen Gray, B.S., Montana State College, has had charge of the Home Economics Department since 1926.

Miss Marjorie Tillotson, B.A., University of Oregon, has taught mathematics in J-Hi since 1930.

Miss Margaret Yeakey, B.S., Washington State College, has been in charge of the commercial subjects since 1930.

Miss Pauline Reinhart, B.A., who has been Director of Instrumental Music since 1931, received her degree from the University of Iowa.

Miss Alice Palmer, B. S., who is the Supervisor of Vocal Music and Art, came to Juneau in 1932. Her alma mater is the University of North Dakota.

Mr. Everett R. Erickson, B.A., M.S., (Ed.), University of Idaho, Head of the Department of English and Director of Dramatics, came to Juneau in 1932.

Mr. Harold E. Regele, A.B., Director of Athletics and instructor in science, graduated from Willamette University. This year is Mr. Regele's first in the school system.

Miss Etta Schwamm, B.A., M.A., teacher of foreign languages, received her degrees from the Universities of North Dakota and Washington. Miss Schwamm is new to the system.

Miss Katherine Long, B.A., University of Washington, is a newcomer this year. Her teaching subjects are history and social science.

Miss Maurine Herbig, A.B., Whitman College, is a new member of the faculty. She teaches English and general science and coaches girls' athletics.

HISTORY

We Seniors of 1934 have indeed made history. Just remember the time we went to grade school. Do you remember Miss Bourgette's "Morning Paper," the encounters of Mary Casey and Eva Rocovich with Miss Meachem, and Miss Abrahamson's reading us "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn?" Do you remember when James Latimer Gray, Jr., in the second grade, came to a Hallowe'en party dressed as a little girl and his rather embarrassing position? (Ask Sonny; I'll bet he won't tell you!) I think everybody remembers:

*Juneau Junipers and a cream-puff
Watch the seventh-grade do their stuff!*

When we were Freshmen in high school, our fears for a tough initiation proved groundless. Our skill in basketball was shown by our girls' taking of the interclass championship and our boys being defeated only by the Juniors. When we advanced to the state of being Wise Fools, we were bright and shining lights in the Honor Society; our girls still held the Interclass Basketball championship, and six of our members obtained places on the high school teams. Came our Junior year and the extraordinarily successful Prom—we'll never forget all that work and the fun we had demolishing the windmill. Now, as Seniors, we begin to think of all the happy times we've had, all the work we've done, and all the beautiful mischief we've accomplished in our career as the class of '34.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the members of the Class of 1934, being of sound mind and not classed as idiots or infants, do hereby declare this to be our final disposition of our most valued property:

I, Grace Nelson, do bequeath my mathematical genius to Florence Rutherford, knowing full well that Miss Tillotson would appreciate this.

I, Paul Hansen, do leave my faithfulness to the one and only "Dutch." May you be more successful than I.

I, Elizabeth Terhune, do leave to Viola Converse two feet of my height in the hope that she uses it to benefit our school when she becomes our champion jumping center.

I, Rosellen Monagle, leave to Shirley Dalton my likeness to Walter Winchel. May your power increase.

I, Duncan Robertson, do leave to Lincoln Turner my preference for small girls. Take the hint.

I, Gene Carlson, leave to Corrinne Jenne my job of pleading to the Honor Society members to attend meetings.

I, Edward Schaefer, do bequeath to Harry Lucas, my deep, manly voice, knowing that his seconds to Student Body motions will then carry more weight.

I, Hilding Haglund, leave my habit of blushing to Lloyd Jarman, knowing that it might come in handy before he graduates.

I, Vieno Lahikainen, will my inobtrusive ways to Kathleen Carlson, being fully aware that study hall would then be more conducive to study.

I, Dorothy Rutherford, hereby bequeath to Nancy Ann Kann my way with airmen.

We, Elizabeth Terhune, Margaret Hanson, and Barbara Winn, will to Corrinne Jenne, Carol Robertson, and Jeanne Van part of our combined strength, knowing that they will need it to force all lower classmen out of the sacred senior locker near the radiator.

I, Barbara Simpkins, do leave to Leona Saloum my fetching profile.

I, Ralph Merrill, leave to Earl Monagle my ability to croon, which no one but me appreciates. To Walt Scott I leave my ability to wear a dozen different shirts a week and get away with it.

I, Marie Bussinger, do bequeath my love of French verbs to Bill Winn. May they love you better than they did me.

I, Jim Cole, do leave to Jeanne Van my ability to make the teachers change the subject. This study I have found to be more than convenient; so perfect it to the 10th degree.

I, Robert Rossiter, do leave to anyone who desires it my success in the Grade School.

I, Esther Niemi, do leave to all the typing students the errors that I might have overlooked on their tests, knowing that they may some day take revenge on some other class. May you all become "Dead-Eye Dicks."

I, George Whyte, do will to Arnold Swanson my antics and expostulations in American History class. You have one year for practice; make use of it that you may rouse your fellow classmates from their daily beauty sleep.

I, Elsie Schmitz, bequeath my love of sitting on my neck to Byron Personeus. May you learn to obey Mr. Erickson as well as I did last year.

I, Elspeth Douglas, after hearing friend Vieno's will, have decided also to reward Katie. May you also lose one of your most cherished pictures, but be sure the locker floor is one grand puddle before attempting to retrieve it. Profit by your good luck.

We, Rhoda Minzgohr, Theodore Kukkola, Malvina Wildt, Lillian Anderson, Aline Ann Goldstein, Earl Beistline, Arthur Picken, George Danner, and Joyce Morris, do bequeath to all the remaining seekers of knowledge the excess love the teachers had for us. Console them that they grieve not at our departure from our classes.

A LOOK INTO THE FUTURE

PROPHECY

The world was startled by the brazen headlines announcing the arrival of the widow, Mrs. Ed. Schaefer, nee Barb Winn, on the moon where she will found a colony. Oh, yes! The time is 1954, an even twenty years since a certain Senior class last met. It so happened that Mr. Schaefer died shortly after having drunk a glass of water, a great shock. Before you get the wrong idea of me, I'm the star reporter on the Blooey, a tabloid run by graft, which got its great start in Juneau through the efforts of Pagan, the swindler. "Mickey" Merrill sketches cartoons on the paper. It is rumored that he obtains his ideas by making faces before a mirror. George Danner turned out to be the Einstein we thought he was, and with the help of Senator Kukkola is getting a bill in Congress preventing complicated problems from appearing in Math books. The Blooey had a hard time to find Earl Beistline, but we located him in Ketchikan where he works as a gigolo! Poor Earl! Esther Niemi has founded a college for the education of the weakminded and has already a number of students, Elizabeth Terhune and Rosie Monagle being the most hopeless cases.

Barb Simpkins and Mrs. Rossiter (Marie Bussinger to you) were thrown into jail by detective Schmitz, for disturbing the peace. The two scoundrels had begun a saxophone and violin duet company and were well received by the police force. Mr. Rossiter is seeking a divorce at Point Barrow, where Judge Goldstein presides. Several of the classmates have tied the knot, among which are Vieno and Jim Cole. Hilding was so fond of Lillian and Rhoda that he married both with the special consent of Governor Carlson and is reported to be doing well driving them around. Joyce Morris and Elspeth Douglas went to Hollywood where they have ousted Mae West and Greta Garbo by their superiority in the essentials. Your reporter nearly forgot to mention the beer and pretzel magnate, Paul Hansen, who has established the largest factory of its kind in the world at Thane. The interior decorating was done by Malvina Wildt, who is "that way" about the multi-millionaire. Gracie, whom all remember, is engaged to George Whyte, who has set up a zoo in the wilds of Africa.

To finish the list, Dot Rutherford has been touring the country with her troupe presenting her version of Macbeth.

• FORTY JUNIORS IN J-HI •

---

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Juniors are on the air. We started the year properly by electing "Dutch" Behrends as our Most Honored (and Honorable, we presume) President. (What a start! What a start!) In order that "Dutch" should not have to bear alone the heavy burdens of our most worthy class, we selected "Timer" Winn for Vice President, Inga Lindstrom as busy Secretary and "Anny" Simpson as most trusted Treasurer. Our supervisor is Miss Tillotson.

Our long-sought-for but unfound skating party was "enjoyed by all." The better half of the class gave the boys a great party where the stronger sex showed its approval by playing havoc with the food. Sorry to say, we were disgraced in losing the ticket-selling race. The Junior Prom was better'n best.

SOPHOMORES

Our first meeting met with a record attendance, nearly half of the class. With all possible dignity Joe "Loudmouth" Sterling was elected President. His shadow, Harry "Shark" Sturrock, was the next sucker on the list, and T. C. Dalton, Tax Collector to you, completed the corrupt group of leaders. Miss Gray is the Sophs' chaperon. After an eventful skating party, our activities were suspended for "unknown" reasons—"maybe too many live wires". The upper classmen broke loose and gave us a dance after we won the ticket contest. Our "spiked" punch for the occasion was donated by a certain generous cow. With several men on the basketball squad we are shining brightly. For our future we have only picnics to be given.

FIFTY-THREE FRESHMEN IN J. H. S.

FRESHMEN

After having elected "Hog-Caller" Lucas to the President's chair, we surrounded him with "wimmen." Clara Hanson is Vice President, and Sybil Godfrey records everything that we, as yearlings, don't do. She's very busy. Miss Schwamm is our adviser.

No doubt we seemed lackadaisical the first part of the year, but no parties were given because we spent all our time in becoming expert safe-crackers. We started the second semester with a "thud." A Valentine party, which brought back fond memories and mixed old friends with enjoyable games, was sponsored by our class.

To the eight dollars which we had at the beginning of the year must be added ten cents. We have a cup amidst our souvenirs. We have every reason to put out our chests in being proud of our loyal supporters.

ATHLETICS

The Jay-Hi athletic program for the current year has been under the direction of Mr. Regele and Miss Herbig, both newcomers to Juneau. Basketball, track, cage ball, tennis, volley ball, and baseball are those sports which have claimed the students' participation.

Basketball, the major sport, progressed with greater inter-scholastic competition than has been witnessed for a number of years. Both the boys and the girls teams entered into the struggle with Ketchikan, Petersburg, Douglas, and in addition, Skagway and Wrangell.

The athletic schedule has become more extensive, thus resulting in a highly interesting and successful season for the Juneau High School.

The new score board in the gym, put up by Coach Regele and the Radio Club, has greatly benefited the spectators and scorers in keeping a close check on the games.

The athletic supply room, which is under Mr. Regele's supervision, contains a complete medicine cabinet for treating injuries incurred by students. Through the courtesy of the Juneau Drug Company a sun-lamp is now available to members of Juneau High School.

EIGHTEEN BOYS ON SQUAD

BOYS' BASKETBALL

The small fact that our boys were not victorious over their southern opponents does not lessen their glory a bit. Out of sixteen games the team encountered only four defeats.

Haglund, 224 points—The fast and scrappy left forward who was a demon on the court will be missed.

Hansen, 65 points—The center has proved his worth on the offensive as well as defensive.

Picken, 4 points—Art was a guard who played little but hard. He, also, will graduate this year.

Behrends, 126 points—Opponents will still feel the effect of his aggressiveness for another year.

Lindstrom, 128 points—His shooting ability is an asset to the team. He, too, has one year more.

Paul, 18 points—His careful checking will be as valuable to the team next year as it was this year.

Scott, 26 points—His ability at center and guard positions was a boon to the team on which he has yet two years to play.

The eight games with city league teams were a real sight. They were fast and furious.

Douglas Series—Juneau 32, Douglas 8; Juneau 35, Douglas 14;
Juneau 24, Douglas 8; Juneau 35, Douglas 18.

Skagway Series—Juneau 35, Skagway 18; Juneau 25, Skagway 9.

Ketchikan Series—Juneau 22, Ketchikan 23; Juneau 23; Ketchikan 25.

First row: Taylor, Lucas, Davis, Personeus.

Second row: Lindstrom, Behrends, Hansen, Paul, Haglund.

Third Row: Coach Regele, See, Sturrock, F. Harris, Scott, Robertson, Picken, Kerr, T. Harris, Bardi.

SEVEN SENIORS SAYING GOODBYE

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Basketball opened with inter-scholastic competition. Barb's team, the No-See-Ums, was victorious.

The girls making the Southeastern Alaska trip were Rhoda Minzgohr, Gene Carlson, Lillian Anderson, Barbara Winn, Corrinne Jenne, Margaret Hanson, Elizabeth Terhune, and Margie Allen.

Gene, one of our crack shots, had our opponents going some with a new block play.

Mugs. Try to keep up with her; she has the reputation of being about the fastest forward we have seen as yet. Too bad! We lose her this year.

Liz, our kangaroo center, had only to decide if she wanted the tip-off. She also developed into a sensational forward toward the end of the season.

Barb. All the opponents in the southern parts had heard of Barb's fighting spirit. Her forward seldom gets close enough to the basket to make a goal. Barb also plays forward.

Rhoda, running center, has made an enviable record. Her playing will be more than missed next year.

Lillian, a sixth wonder, did excellent guarding throughout the season.

Barb S. displayed very good floor work and was one of the team's highly prized guards.

Margie Allen and Corrinne Jenne are two strong players who will again shine next year.

Douglas Series—Juneau 27, Douglas 15; Juneau 23, Douglas 10;
Juneau 38, Douglas 27; Juneau 31, Douglas 24.

Ketchikan Series—Juneau 31, Ketchikan 2; Juneau 20, Ketchikan 13;
Juneau 26, Wrangell 5; Juneau 25, Ketchikan 6.

First row: Coach Herbig, G. Carlson, M. Hanson, Terhune, Minzgohr, Winn, Anderson, Simpkins.

Second row: V. Converse, K. Carlson, VanderLeest, Jenne, Berg, Alstead, Allen, Lemieux, Lindstrom, C. Hanson, B. Converse.

MINOR ACTIVITIES

Among the boys the Juniors proved their greatness by taking the inter-class basketball series. In the place of the usual class volley ball, cage ball predominated. The faculty organized an unbeatable team, as was shown in games with the students.

Due to a lack of opposing contestants last spring, inter-scholastic track was not held, it being substituted by the intra-mural or individual form.

In last year's tennis Juneau took all four games from Douglas after many a hard battle. Barb Winn and Hilding Haglund copped the singles while Ellen Mize and "Jiggs" Ulrich and Bob Henning and George Karabelnikoff took the doubles.

DRAMA AND MUSIC

Juneau High School has witnessed a heavy program of dramatic and musical events during the present school year.

A class in dramatics drew an enrollment of twenty-six students. Miniature stages, laboratory experiments in make-up, acting, directing, and playwriting were a few of the many class activities. The school play tryouts attracted a large number of students. An unexpected cold spell was responsible for the cancelling of an elaborate Christmas program. A program of one-act plays and song and dance skit was staged in February.

Declamation brought many new finds. Nine students, Lewis Beaudin, Joe Sterling, Kathleen Carlson, Duncan Robertson, Patricia Harland, Myrtle Mello, Emily Dalton, Aline Ann Goldstein, Jeanne VanderLeest, represented the student body in an interclass declamatory meet. Joe Sterling delivered "A New South." Aline Ann Goldstein gave "Daddy Doc," and Emily Dalton interpreted "Gladys Goes In For Baseball" at the Southeastern Alaska declamatory meet, which was held during March.

The high school orchestra played at all the games as well as appearing at the concerts sponsored by the Department of Music. The orchestra played at the school play, and its two recitals were well received by the public. The stringed quartette has proved popular.

The glee clubs have been very active throughout the year. Frequent appearances at the school functions have brought only the best of praise. The ACappella Choir and the several smaller vocal organizations have become well-known to Juneau music lovers.

The jazz orchestra is deserving mention. The "popular music" group under the direction of Miss Turner has been prominent at all the school dances.

SCHOOL PLAY

STAGED BY EVERETT R. ERICKSON

The Student Body Association presented Aurania Rouverol's three act comedy, "Skidding," at the Coliseum Theatre on November 17, 1933. The large audience showed its appreciation by frequent laughs and bursts of applause.

The scenes took place in the Hardy's living room in a certain town in Idaho. The action occurred during a period of three weeks in early summer.

The high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Reinhart furnished music between acts.

Cast: Aunt Milly, Grace Nelson; Andy Hardy, Buddy Lindstrom; Mrs. Hardy, Louise Tanner; Judge James Hardy, Walter Scott; Grandpa Hardy, Earl Beistline; Estelle Hardy, Barbara Winn; Marion Hardy, Sybil Godfrey; Wayne Trenton, III, Hilding Haglund; Mr. Stubbins, James Gray; Myra Hardy Wilcox, Amy Lou Guerin.

MINSTREL SHOW

PRODUCED BY MISS ALICE PALMER

The Boys' Glee Club presented its second annual blackface revue before two large audiences in the Juneau Grade School Auditorium on March 7, 1934.

The stage setting of black and silver was most attractive. The black-faced minstrels wore coats of red, white trousers, and brightly colored ties.

Accompanist: Carol Robertson.

Songs: "Lazy Bones," "Shake Yo' Shoes," "If I Was What I Ain't Instead of What I Is," "A Little Green Apple," "O' Pappy," "Dixie Isn't Dixie Any More," "Can't Yo' Hear Me Callin' Caroline," "Why Darkies Were Born."

Cast: Members of the Boys' Glee Club; End Men—Bill Friend, Joe Sterling, Ralph Merrill, Bill Winn; Interlocutor, George Whyte.

Specialties: Dance—Clifford Berg, Jack Kearney, Dutch Behrends, Duncan Robertson, Ken Webster, Gerald Boddling, Buddy Lindstrom, Harry Sturrock, Charles Jenne.

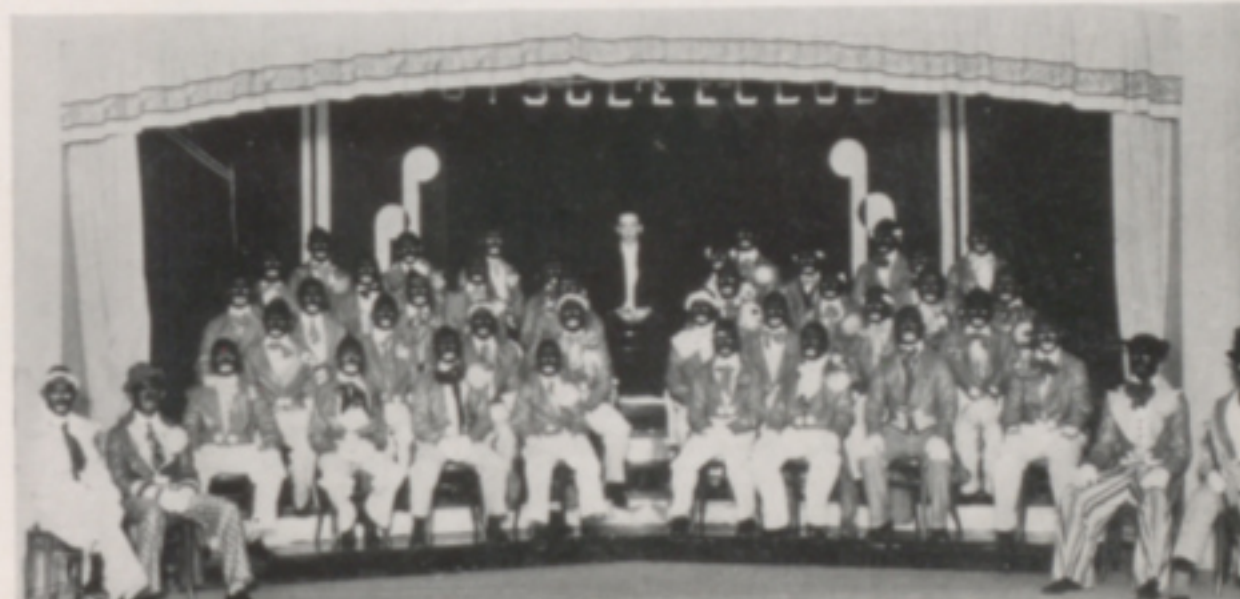

"Me and My Shadow"—Jim Cole, Bill Lowe, Tom Fukuyama.

Musical Instruments—Harmonica, Jack Schaefer; Xylophone, Fred Harris.

Acrobatics—Bill Lowe, Harry Lucas.

Production staff: Minnie Rogers, Judith Alstead, Everett R. Erickson, Mr. Regele and Radio Club, Ralph Merrill, Florence Rutherford, Aline Goldstein, Corrinne Jenne, Elspeth Douglas, Anabel Simpson, Eleanor Gruber, Aline Apland, Miss Turner's Band, Ray Hurley.

The Board of Control, the governing body of the Student Body Association, has accomplished many worthwhile activities during this school year. Mr. Dunham has devoted much time in directing the activities of the student body; his efforts are appreciated.

The Board of Control supervised many excellent assembly programs, and it has also been able to continue successfully the student control system which was introduced last fall. Several amendments, which simplify the election of officers and the giving of school awards, have been adopted. Also, the organization sponsored two delightful dances, both of which were enjoyed by all of the students.

Lucas, Haglund, Whyte, Behrends, M. Hanson, Sturrock, Merrill, Mr. Dunham.

J-BIRD ISSUED BI-MONTHLY

J-BIRD

Every two weeks, through the kindness of the Empire Printing Company, the J-Bird has been given to the students of J-Hi. Careful checking of each edition under the watchful eye of the adviser, Miss Long, has resulted in a well-organized and balanced paper.

Despite the fact that it is the students' publication, there are those who seem to think otherwise and make no comments for improvements. The staff favors constructive criticism at all times, realizing that its purpose is only to assemble the paper, not to make it.

RADIO AND RIFLE CLUBS REAL ASSETS

RADIO CLUB

Eleven fellows under the supervision of Mr. Regele constitute the Radio Club. The purpose of the organization is to aid those students who are interested in learning the practical and theoretical principles underlying radio operation.

The club installed an electrical score board and a public address system in the gymnasium. It did the lighting and wiring for the minstrel show.

RIFLE CLUB

OFFICERS

President.....	Duncan Robertson
Secretary.....	Arthur Ficken
Treasurer.....	Paul Hansen
Adviser.....	Mr. Dunham

The object of the rifle club is to make the boys good marksmen. Great progress has been made toward fulfilling the organization's aim. The members shoot twice a month, one-half on Friday and the other half on the following Saturday.

RADIO CLUB

MUMMERS

OFFICERS

President.....	Ralph Merrill
Vice President.....	Bill Winn
Secretary.....	Grace Nelson
Adviser.....	Mr. Erickson

The Mummers is a dramatic organization, and its purpose is to foster and obtain an interest in drama and dramatics. Membership in the club is limited to students who qualify.

The organization is perfecting a constitution. Two initiations, a sports dance, and a picnic have given the club a live interest.

TORCH SOCIETY

OFFICERS

President.....	Gene Carlson
Vice President.....	Barbara Winn
Secretary.....	Grace Nelson
Adviser.....	Miss Long

The Torch Society is very active. The "Barn Dance" started the club's activity. Its supervision of the ticket sale for the winter athletic carnival was handled in an admirable manner. Information concerning possible scholarships offered by various colleges is being collected.

TEN OUTSTANDING STUDENTS

POPULARITY PLUS

It was with the greatest of difficulty that the ten most outstanding students in various scholastic activities were selected. We wish to introduce you to the "Totem's" choice:

Ralph Merrill has shown outstanding tendencies in Thespian activities, and Corrinne Jenne has shown excellent ability in musical performances. It is safe to wager that other schools our size will have difficulty in producing a second scholarly Grace Nelson. Harry Lucas and Gene Carlson win the laurels for possessing forethought—the most spirited boy and girl in the school. Spiro Paul has no competition when it comes to rifle shooting. There isn't any doubt concerning the best athletes, Hilding Haglund and Margaret Hanson. Barbara Winn is in a class of distinction—the all around girl of J-Hi. Tom Stewart concludes the list by being the most conscientious student.

THE MONTHLY WIND BAG

"IT'S AN ILL WIND AND BLOWS NO GOOD"

J-HI SEASON OPENS WITH A FLOURISH

YEARLINGS THROW A PARTY

Sept.—The Freshmen were royally entertained by the Senior males at an impromptu party. The original decorations consisted of yellow and white streaks and dabs, blotched "here and there" with tomato red. The feature entertainment proved costly. The Student Body dance, which was scheduled for the 29th, "will be indefinitely postponed"—them's the words. And we were to have the Revelers, that expensive drawing card of the younger set's "rat races."

ICE SKATING LURES KNOW-IT-ALLS

Oct.—Late this month the Seniors and Sophs gave a joint skating party at the Glacier lakes. One class tried to ditch the other; however, the Senior prexy seemed perfectly happy with a "Sophette." One guess. Our dear Editor likes these Southern gals. Yes, suh! (Ask him who owns one.)

"TURKEY MONTH" WITNESSES TWO EVENTS

Nov.—"The indefinitely postponed" Student Body dance was held in the grade school gym on the night before Armistice Day. The Jazz Orchestra burst forth in catchy dance tunes. The "tripping of the light fantastic" was enjoyed by a crowd, which was somewhat depleted before the evening was ended. Punch was served.

Nov.—On Thanksgiving Eve the initiates of the Mummies walked the gang plank. The Home Ec rooms were gay with the laughter of the members and the consternation of the plebes. The girls were attired as boys and the boys as girls; Scotty pulled the "come up and see me sometime" act. The future members served the regulars with over-salted tid-bits and staged an abominable stunt.

NOVELTY PARTIES ATTRACT MANY J-HI-ITES

Dec.—Although the weather was admittedly cold, none of the "attacked" (D. B., I. L.) Juniors seemed to complain on the journey to and from Lynch's. Wally won a rattle, the boys had sugar sandwiches, and several cars had flats (the old story) on the way home; so, adding 2 to 6 and dividing by Pi, the party was a huge success.

Dec.—The theme song of the Honor Society must be "How're we doin'?" Hay, hay!" Anyway, according to those who consider themselves expert judges on every subject, the dance was the best so far. Everyone seemed to be waiting for something. Some of the instructors entered a la slide.

Somehow or other the dance lasted until Cinderella's magic hour. Bless our teachers!

BASKETBALL DANCE WAS GAY

Jan.—The Seniors and Juniors finally loosened up and gave the hard-working Freshmen and Sophomores the dance that was due them. Douglas was there en masse as there was no cover charge. (Can you blame them?)

There were several feature numbers, and then milk was served for the youngsters. (I hope you all know whom.) It seemed that most of the crowd around the KLIM section was comprised of our high-hat seniors. Second childhood perhaps—or is it still the first? Ask Liz. "Turner's Tooters" played the dance program.

THE MONTHLY WIND BAG

"NO GOOD IS BLOWN BY AN ILL WIND"

SPRING FESTIVITIES ARE DIVERSIFIED

THE FROSH STEP OUT

Feb.—The Frosh certainly must be Scotch. (How about it, Harry?) Their first party, and here it is almost the end of school. It is rumored that they had to "solicit" phonographs from the neighbors, too. As no one but Freshmen were present, the party probably was fun. Did they push peanuts around by their noses?

hurried up,
All eager for the treat.
Their coats were brushed, their faces washed,
Their shoes were clean and neat.

* * * *

Four other Freshmen followed them,
And yet another 4;
And thick and fast they came at last,
And more, and more, and more. . .

MARCH BRINGS THREE AFFAIRS

March—A tea, given in the English room in honor of the S. E. Alaska declamatory participants, was enjoyed by forty students and guests. The service table was attractively decorated and appropriately arranged. Musical selections were played and sung during the hour.

March—The Mummies' initiation and dinner surpassed the one held in November. The initiates were perfect in obeying. Ask Bernice Riedle.

March—The Student Body dance honoring the basketball teams and coaches was great. The DeMolay orchestra played the program.

JUNIOR PROM IS CLEVER

April—The dance of the year! The Prom! All the girls in their new dresses, and we must admit they looked lovely.

Everyone (except the committees) was pleasantly surprised at the novel decorating scheme. "The time has come . . . to talk of shoes . . . and ships . . . and sealing wax, of cabbages . . . and kings . . . and why the sea is boiling hot, and whether pigs have wings."
And 4 young Freshmen oysters

MANY PARTIES CLOSE THE SOCIAL CALENDAR

May—The Home Ec class did the cooking for the annual Honor Society Dinner which probably accounts for the several fatalities (Man bites dog). Everyone gave speeches; nobody listened, and all in all I guess the guests generally enjoyed themselves.

May—The members of the Public Speaking Classes tried to entertain themselves at a banquet in the Math Room. As every one had to give a short speech, you can imagine how crazy Joe, the toast master, felt after all was over. Fate is cruel, but the students stood the gaff amazingly well.

May—The Seniors "snooked" out from the school on their annual last-thing, and, when they arrived at their destination, immediately proceeded to eat, exercise, sing, talk, and so forth, entirely too much. The following day they all looked like the a.m. after the p.m. before, but then they deserved it. Their last round up!

May—The usual number of class and club picnics gave the students a certain number of nites out. The proverbial half-cooked barking dogs lying contentedly between the halves of elongated buns, pickles, potato chips, and over-stuffed mosquitoes were greatly enjoyed by those who were present.

ALL IN FUN

PROLOGUE

It's great to be funny
And full of wit
But when you have to be funny
How one's brains do get!

Three Senior goils, the beautiful foiles,
Who wouldn't harm a worm for woildes,
Bounced young Florence out of the locker,
In a condition that 'twas quite a shocker,
Them three innocent Senior goils!

12 a.m. Twelve o'clock and all is well
'Cept Friday the students sing like—who can tell?

11 a.m. Art Ficken today is thinking deep
He stares at the clock, he looks at his feet.

10 a.m. Dorothy Rutherford arrives at school
All prepared to mind the rule.

9 a.m. Alex Spence Dunham tried to smile
As he makes out admittance slips by the mile.

8 a.m. A dozen Seniors roll over and moan—
Two dozen Freshmen grunt and groan—(Don't kid yourself, they don't get up!)

7 a.m. Linc Turner springs up garbed in his nite shirt,
"Why must I sleep—I'll miss out on some 'dirt'!"

1 a.m. At one o'clock 'tis often said
All good teachers go to bed.

2 a.m. Gracie Nelson ceases to toil—
What a woman with the midnight oil.

3 a.m. Jimmy Cole and
Sonny Gray
Homeward wend their weary way.

4 a.m. Merrill sneaks in with his good pass key
"Hoot, Owls! I'm
coming. Thish ish me!"

5 a.m. Bob McClain has a terrible night-mare
His conscience gives him quite a scare!

6 a.m. Carol Robertson sleeps with a baleful snore,
"Oh, who'll keep the J-Bird away from my door?"

(We don't make much over half-hours, but this is extra-special!)

8:30 a.m. A man tears his hair and scowls at Big Ben Owing to three women, he'll be late again!

Dear Mr. Chust Chaff:
I am a petite little French girl with dark curly tresses and oodles and noodles of boy friends. I can always handle a few more. How can I get them?
I believe in you,

S—,

Dear S:
Wiggle along, little girlie, wiggle along!

Chaff.

ALL YE SMILE

Dear Miss Yeakey
Her finger she shakey
Us to work makey
But, shucks, dat's all jakey
For de mon we will rakey!

AROUND THE SCHOOL

Theme song for Mummies: "Mum-mers, Mummies, Mammy!"

Asked of Bobby Davis: What was Jim Hawkins' accident?
Answered by Bobby Davis: A flea bite.

Chairman Kearney: Miss Skinner will be our next speaker.

Miss Skinner: I told you not to call on me until tomorrow.

DECIDE FOR YOURSELF

Whoopsie, my deeah, enter ze Countess Rostoff, ze one and invincible Corrinne Jenne. "Zis is ze nerts!"

Dear Mr. Chust Chaff:
I'm a vivacious, towny-haired lady from the cold north. All I need is a good start to get going places. What would you advise?
Love and kisses,

LOUISE TANNER.

Dear Miss Tanner:
Dynamite, dearie, dynamite!

CHAFF.

CAN YOU LAUGH?

JUNEAU HOOEY SCHOOL ALPHABET

A stands for Anna, who likes apple pie,
At her studies she labors with many a sigh.
B stands for Bills, the first o' the month Bills,
Winn, Kiloh and Lowe, they give us the chills!
C stands for Corrinne and also for cat,
But she is no kitty; we all know that.
D stands for Dumb-bell and Duncan the wise;
They never will mix; that we surmise.
E stands for Esther and also for Ed;
Ed's great in history; what more can be said?
F stands for two Freds—one has lots of poise,
But the other rattles round with a great deal of noise.
G stands for four Georges and also a Gunnar—
Enough for a war—we must have our "Funner!"
H stands for Hank, also Hilding and Hub;
They may be three wise ones, but they're in no tub!
I stands for Inga, who lufs the Dutch;
When the Dutch ain't there, nothing matters—much.
J stands for Judith, Jackson and Joe,
Three little sunbeams all in a row.
K stands for someone, we can't mention here;
She's on the Faculty, and them we hold dear.
L stands for the Louises—Skinner and Tanner;
Watch out, animules; they wave their banner;
M stands for Monagle; other M's there may be,
But it takes all of two lines to cover him, you see.
N stands for Nola; her second name's Mae.
When she hits the wrong key—what does the girl say?
O stands for Ove, whose name rhymes with stovie;
We like Ove, so we hope he won't rovie.
P stands for Paul, who's a great athlete;
Hurry up girls. Ain't he too sweet?
Q stands for the quinces who attend our school;
They're related to lemons, and they keep each rule.
R stands for Rosie, who's due for a fall;
When Rosie is late, she dumps her coat in the hall!
S stands for Schmitz, who makes the big hits;
Her manners are ritz, and her smile—it is blitz! (Bei Dunder!)
T stands for Terhune, the darling gazoon,
Who's a trifle longer than a day in June!
U stands for you and never for me;
So it's a no 'count letter as U can see!
V stands for Vieno, whose last name is our knell;
But that's cause we're dumb; we never could spell!
W stands for Winners, our Basketball Teams;
Over all Alaska their glory gleams.
X stands for the X-claiming our readers will give;
For when they read this, we've not long to live!
Y stands for the Yahoos who won't yell at games;
They may think they're smart, but perhaps they've no brains!
Z stands for Zugie—in a class by herself is she,
For besides the good old Zebra, nothing begins with Z!

EPILOGUE

*Perhaps you're glad
This section's done.
I'm glad, too,
For humor's no fun.*

MANNERS OF YE STUDENTERS

BY A BUMMER

Mucher may be said of students' manners.

For a beginner take the Chewing Gummers. There are many chewers, but also some who chaw. Among the "Cudders" we note Pat Harland, Em Dalton, and A. A. Goldstein.

Seconder—The Spit Wadders. Among these Earl Monagle is the "Baby Ruther" of them all, but Hub Sturrock and Tommy Hall are also true marksmen.

Thirder—The Oh-Kidders. These be a gentle lotter, headed by Shirley Dalton and Miriam Lea.

Fourther—The Finger-nail Biters, and in this we place Geraldine Bodding by herself.

Fifther—The Sitters On Their Work. The bright but cautious Wally George, Corrinne Jenne, and Grace Nelson are our best on-work sitters.

Sixther—The Eternal Posers. Dot Rutherford and Ralph Merrill are our best examples of those who see themselves all the time as they imagine others see them.

Seventher—The Scratchers. We'll just remark that Lavender Gray and Al Williams know how to scratch. They practice one hour each day.

Eighther—The Chatterboxers. At this Jake Swanson and Jeanne Van take prize.

Ninther—The Ever-Laters. For this we place Amy Lou Guerin and Florence Rutherford in a class of their own.

Tenther—The Impudenters. Jack Kearney and George Whyte receive honorable mention.

Eleventher—The Silent Rebels. These are strong, silent he-men, and we hope they never exploder. We name them: Buddy Lindstrom, Walter Scott, and Hilding Haglund.

Twelfther—The Smarters. How they shiner, Barb Winn and Dunc Robertson.

Thirteenth—The Wrongers. Someone done 'em wrong and listen to 'em yell about it. They are Earl Beistline and Tom Harris.

Fourteenth—Mummers and Plumbers. We group these together because with all apologies we are about to mention the higher-uppers—Liefer Erickson and Rollickin' Regele.

Fifteenth—Slumpers in the Seaters. For this hall of fame we nominate Kitty Carlson, Louise Skinner, and Joey Sterling.

Sixteenth—Gigglers. We have them; and if you don't believe us, listen to them giggle when they read this—Charley Talmage and John Ritter.

Seventeenth—The Seconders of Motioners. Harry Lucas and Fred Harris are always on hand to see that motioners don't want for a seconder.

Eighteenth—The Horse Laughters. Lloyd Jarman has no competition.

Nineteenth—The Radicalers. We have two loyal studers in this class, namely, Arthur Picken and Anita Zugoff.

Twentieth—The Alibiers. Henry Meader and Lincoln Turner have perfected the art.

Gosher! We could go on forever, but our spacer is limiteder even if the studenters know no limiter. So in conclusioner, we will mention the dummer and the other bummers. These comprise all of the left over studenters not mentioned abover.

Riser! Give 'em all a hander!

Healthful, ultra-violet rays of "indoor sunshine" for the whole family at once with this new G-E Floor Sun-lamp

Sunlight and Health

Most Juneauites spend the greater part of each 24 hours under artificial light, losing the benefits of the Ultra Violet Rays from the sun.

It is of particular importance that children receive such rays to build body resistance against diseases of childhood.

A sunbath is much more desirable than a dose of Cod Liver Oil.
