INTRODUCTION

This book is designed to cover each phase of the full year of 1949-50 at Juneau High School. It includes the students and faculty, sports, activities, and clubs. It presents a picture of a rounded education, one in which students learn to meet the needs of the world and are prepared to take up their places in society. For a student not only must learn the three r's, but he also must learn how to do things with his hands, improve his co-ordination, and get along with other people. To show the complete training and teaching of a student at J-Hi, this book is published.

DEDICATION

THE MEMORIAL LIBRARY

Marking another change and great improvement in the city of Juneau is the new Memorial Library, to be constructed this summer. A fine memorial to Juneau's war dead, it has been planned since 1947.

Costing somewhere in the neighborhood of $140,000, the building will be constructed either on the corner of Fourth and Main Streets or on Fifth Street. Although plans are continually being changed as to the site of this edifice, it is hoped that work will start this summer and be completed sometime in the fall.

Collection of the money has been in the hands of three of Juneau's most civic-minded men—Mr. Frank B. Heintzleman, Mr. B. D. Stewart, and Dr. James Ryan.

All but about $2,000 or half the total has come in from civic organizations and local subscribers. The city will put up the other half as work gets rolling shortly.

The new library will mean a great deal to the students of J.-High. Located nearby, it will be easy to get to, and it will arouse in every student a more rounded reading interest as well as a pride in a public building towards which he himself helped contribute.

Therefore, to the Memorial Library of Juneau, we dedicate this Totem.

TO THE STUDENTS:

School day memories are treasures which in future years will be retained when many others have long been forgotten. In the years to come, may you ever recall with joy and pride your school friendships, the lessons of work and play (even though you may have had to get them the hard way), the acts of loyalty and co-operation, and those goals of endeavor and achievement which you may or may not have reached.

Your school has been for you a "testing ground", where acquaintance made may later ripen into a lifelong friendship, where ideals are born, where habits of thought and action are formed, and where a sense of right and justice emerges. These factors, indelibly impressed, become a part of you and shape to a great extent the course of the rest of your life.

It is my hope that the experiences of these school years may ever be an aid, an incentive, and a guide to you in avoiding the "detours" as each succeeding year broadens and widens the scope of your "horizon", and that you will have been well prepared for a "good citizenship" in your daily service to your community and your country.

Sterling S. Sears.

TO THE STUDENTS

To the Seniors of Juneau High School let me pose the question, "What Now?" Most of you have rather definite plans for your immediate future. Unfortunately, some of you are still at sea and wondering what it is all about. You have been given some basic tools with which to shape your lives, and you, and only you, are responsible for the reflection, ten, twenty, or sixty years hence.

Those of you who continue your education will, I am sure, find that the basic tools which you now possess will prove to be useful in shaping your college career and later life.

To Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen, it may seem a long time, but, in reality it is all too short a time before you, too, will be ready for graduation and will have to face the same realities and make the same decisions for yourselves that now confront the Seniors. Let's all be getting ready to answer the question, "What Now?"

Leslie B. Avrit.

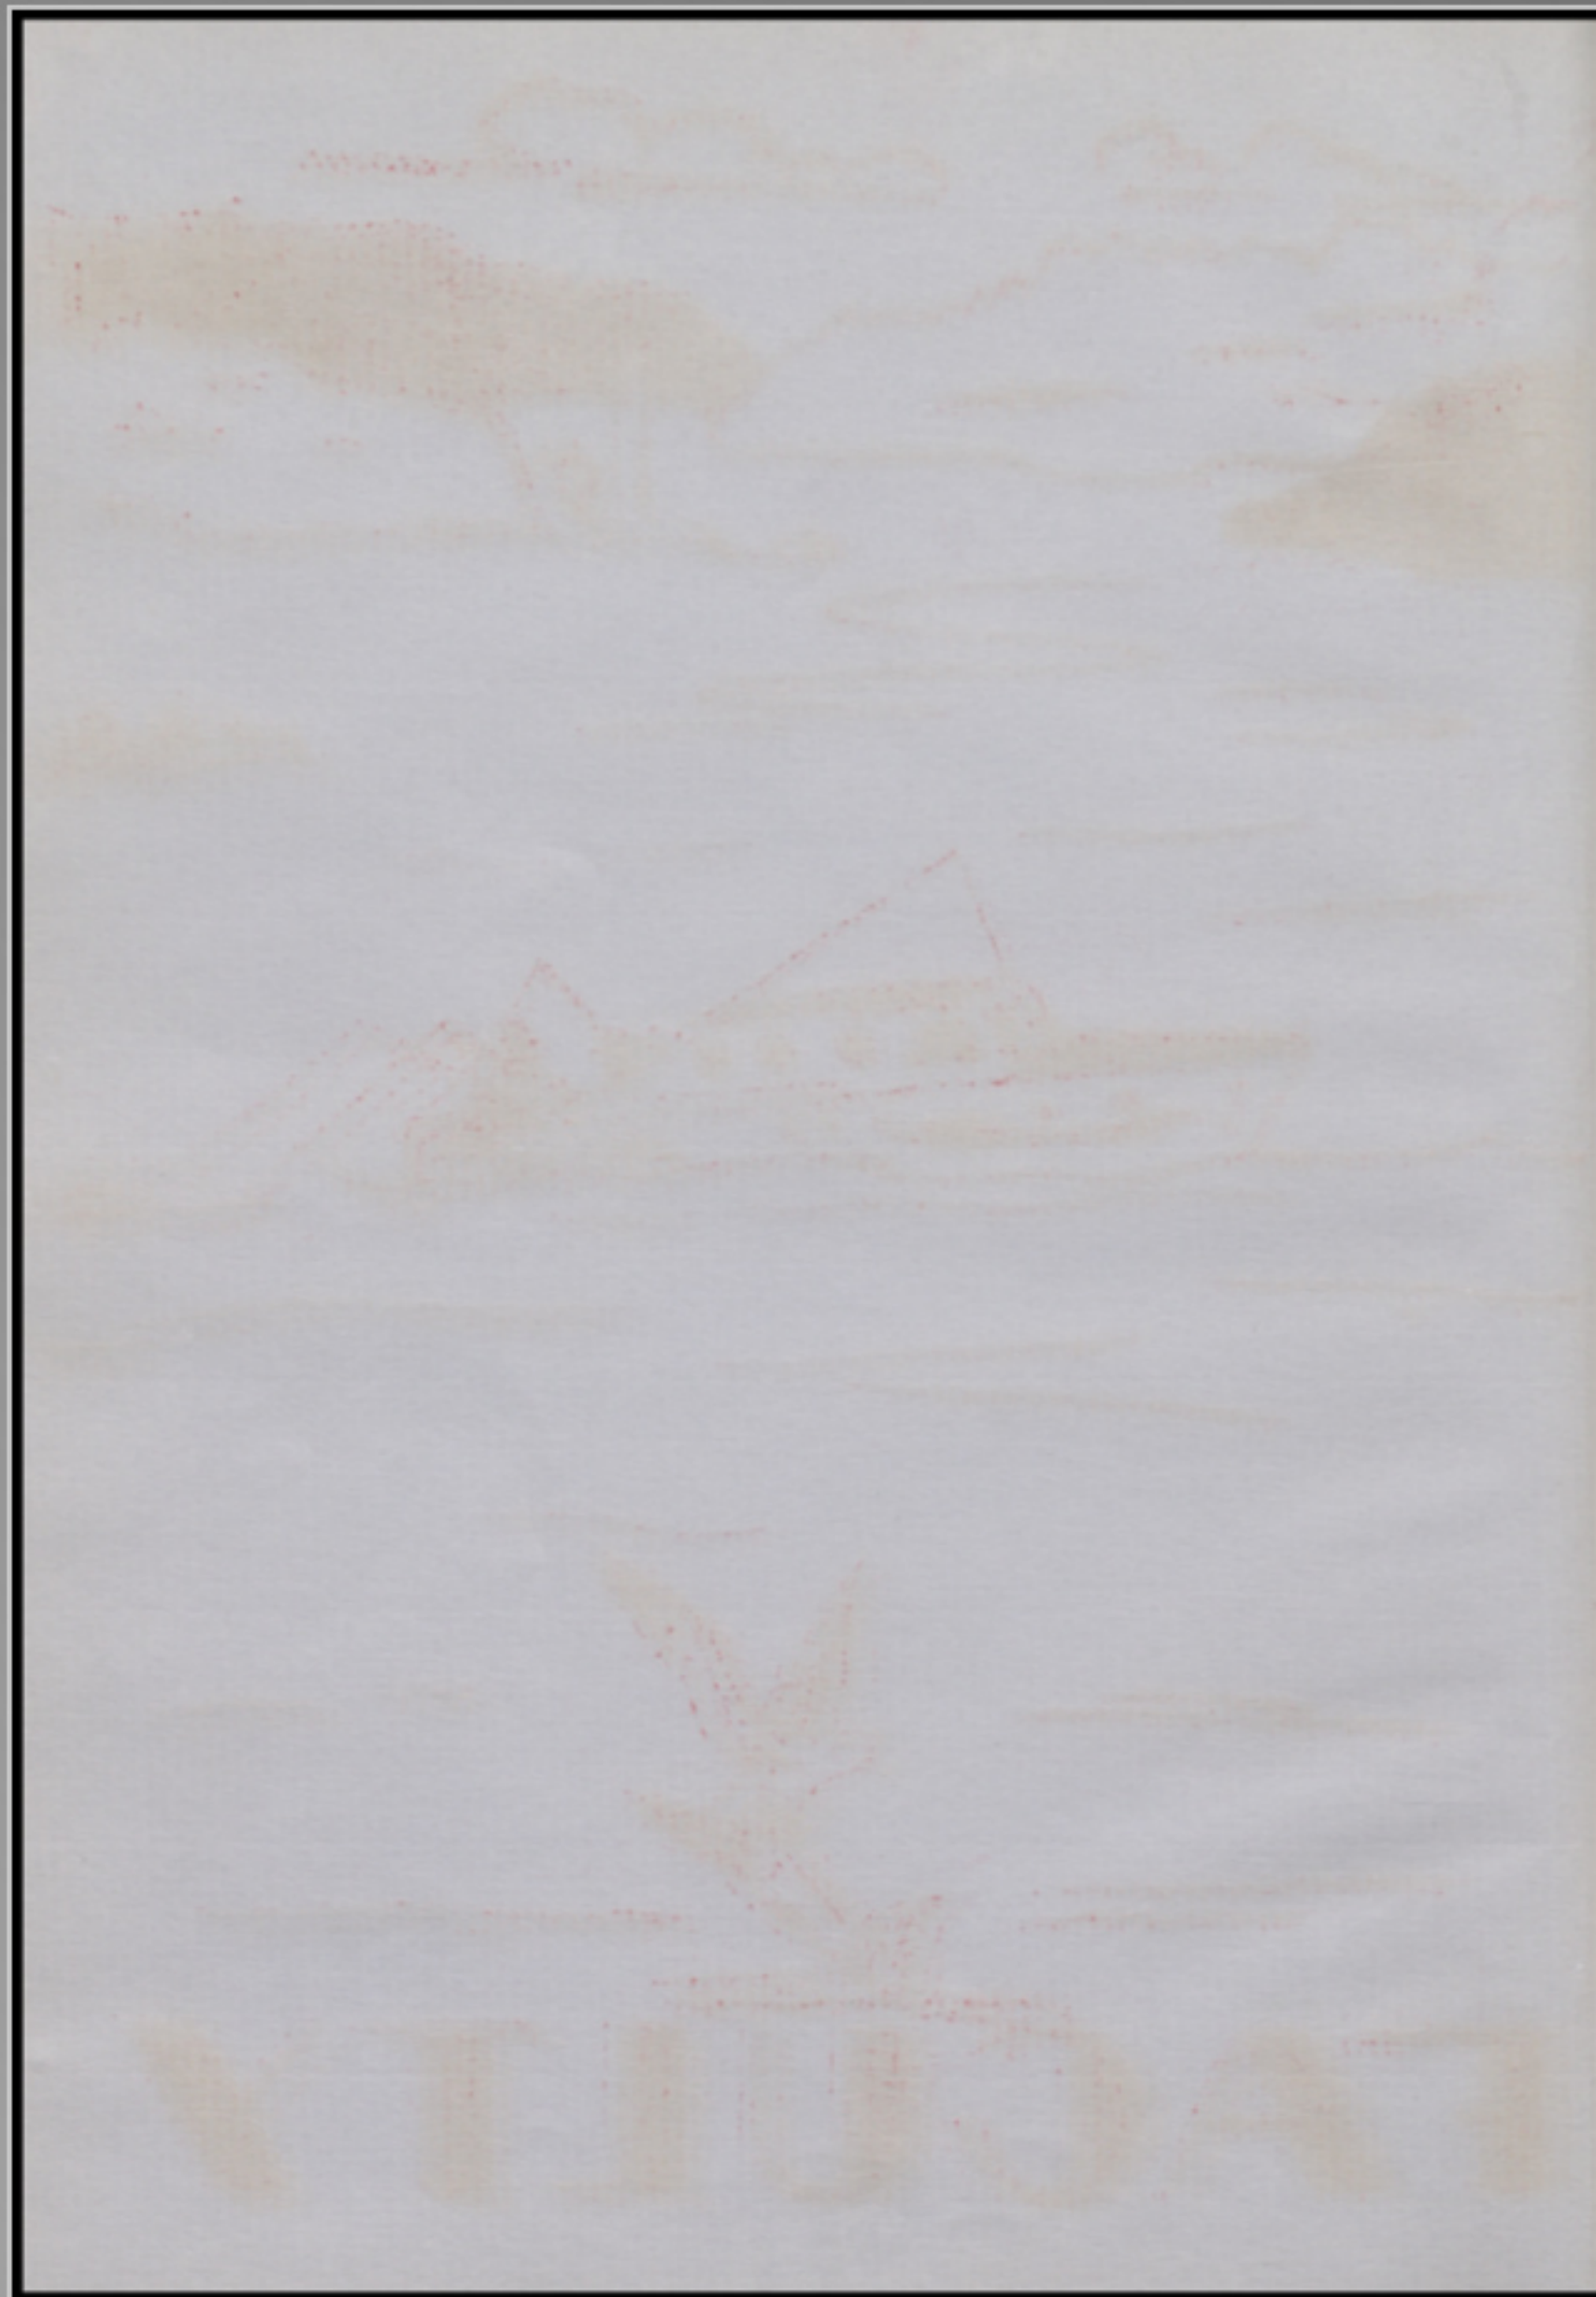

TO PARENTS AND FRIENDS:

The students of the Senior Class are truly representatives of a half century of progress—progress in people, styles, teaching, learning, and ideas.

It is with real honor that we are graduated and enter life to be known as the Class of '50—the half century class. With this thought, and a slight feeling of importance, we are preparing to go out into the world and show all people that their fifty years of efforts to improve schools, teaching, ideals, and their children have not been wasted.

The Senior Class.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

(OR HOW TO STAY OUT OF WORK FOR FOUR YEARS)

Just two years, eight months and seven days after the bombing of Pearl Harbor, another great tragedy happened. The Senior Class of 1950 came to J-Hi and immediately set to work as model students.

These energetic young people showed their willingness to cooperate by banding together to burn the school down; but their movement was to die an untimely death due to the closeness of the fire department and the intervention of the traveling Nemo who saw through their well-planned scheme. Although they were not discouraged, they decided to settle down a little and give a blowout at the Auk Bay Recreation Area. This was, and still is, known as the Freshman Class picnic.

As Sophomores this group numbered 49. Since their plan to move the school to the middle of the Gulf of Alaska was stopped when a petition was drawn up by the seals in that vicinity and sent to the "Governor," they decided to set to work and choose their class colors. After much changing and debate, the colors of green and white were selected.

Now to their big year—the Junior year. The Juniors decided that it would be best to go underground, so a close-knit group was formed. They decided to throw a party to lull the opposition into false security. It was to be a thing well planned, "The Junior Prom." Nothing was to be spared; flowers were imported from Hawaii; and the dance followed an Hawaiian theme, with Sheila MacSpadden chosen as Prom Queen.

Feeling sorry for the underfed J-Hi students, the Junior Class took it upon themselves to do something about it. So a hot dog sale took place.

At last these model students, some on hands and knees, the Class of 1950, came to the last lap of their journey. Under the direction of their class advisor, Miss Emily Dean, the class ordered their rings, pins, and class announcement cards.

Since their underground work was rather muddy, they decided to quit being ground logs and become eager beavers. Up from the depths they arose with a mighty plan under hand, "The Senior Ball." They set to work chopping down every tree in sight and stuffed the branches from them in every effective place in the gym for decorations for the dance. The affair was to be December 24th, but due to the arrival of Santa, and the need of time for hanging up stockings, the dance was moved up to December 16 at 9:00.

Ah, May 26th at last! These gallant Seniors walked slowly up to the platform to receive their diplomas, grabbed them, and galloped madly away.

And so goeth the Class of '50.

We, the Senior Class of Juneau High School (in the year 1950), do will these, our most prized possessions, feeling sure, that after years of such hard work, our short lives are about to expire.

I, PAT GARRETT, being in questionable mind and unsound body, do hereby bequeath my yodel to Mollie Jo MacSpadden and my freckles and pink hair to the first person I can palm them off to.

Gathering together my belongings and leaving, I, DAN NOYES, promise to return when Juneau can guarantee twenty inches of rain a year.

I, JOANNE SABIN, leave to Mr. Shofner my clarinet, squeaks included. To Janet Flint, I leave my curly hair, Pepso-dent smile, one-way ticket to Ketchikan, and ingenious methods of skipping school.

To my brother Jimmie, I, DON WILBER, will all my teachers and hope he gets along with them as well as I did.

I, ALICE TANAKA, gladly leave to the unfortunate lower classmen Mr. Eide's never-ending assignments. To the next Girls' Club Prexy, Ann Henning, goes one chocolate cake left from this year's cake sale. She will find it in the hidden compartment of my locker . . . a starter for next year's sale.

For the land of fine music, bubbling beverages, and understanding women, I, ROD PEGUES, leave. To Jack Gould can go my uncanny facility for getting "excused" absences.

I, CAROL JEAN MacDONALD, being of fairly sound mind, leave to Joyce Hope my whistle and hot temper which are necessary to control a marching band. I hope she survives better than I did.

To Ronnie Hildre, I, BOB SOMMERS, will my vast knowledge of English and for Fred Wyller my recommendation that he be elected the next president of the Rifle Club.

I, BARBARA DAVIS, leave the "private" study halls and unscheduled holidays to Dixie Lee Tandy.

I, GEORGE BARRIL, being of sound mind and body, leave my monstrous height to "Pinky" Butts and to Art McKinnon all the 7th periods I haven't made up.

My ability to get into arguments with Miss De Spieg . . . I, VIRGINIA

Last Will and Testament of the Senior Class

JOHNSON, leave to Betty Mantyla. For Alberta Barlow my enthusiasm for badminton games is lying on the shelf in the coach's office.

I, FRANK MAIER, leave my graceful dancing form to Russell Nelson, along with my ability to stay off the honor roll.

I, CARMEN MANTYLA, leave J-Hi, knowing it is only too happy to be rid of me, but there is one more Mantyla to take my place.

A slightly used checkerboard and a bottle of glue, I, J. EDWARD DAY, will to Henry Haugen. To Manuel Diaz, I leave my place in Rifle Club, hoping he shoots Distinguished without too much trouble.

I, JOYCE HELTON, bequeath my blond hair to anyone who would like to have it.

I, BILL KEEP, hereby bequeath my broken boards to the future ski-jumpers of Juneau High School with the hope that they will land, not on their heads as I, but on these very skiis . . . give me roses.

My gracefulness on the badminton court, I, BETTY TAPLEY, will to Sandra McCrea, and my great love of shooting, I leave to Lois Lawrence.

I, GRAHAM ROUNTREE, do (with all respects to the faculty) leave all doors on their hinges and in good working condition and my ability to tear them off to Fred Wyller.

In the excitement of graduation night, I, SUE McMULLEN, will probably drop some of my lovely teeth. These may be claimed by my buddy Dave Graves. To Bud Schultz, I will my lovely singing voice and my unquestionable talent as a pianist. To Dave Harman and Jimmy Wilber, I leave my telephone number. This leaves me with my graduation diploma, something I wouldn't give away for all the fried chicken in the world.

I, JERRY MOORE, leave all my earthly possessions to be divided equally between Doogan and Graves. Said possessions include four back issues of "Sunshine and Health," numerous phoney identification papers, and my autobiography, "Night Life on the Channel."

My facility for always having an open mouth on the basketball floor, I, BILL

SPERLING, leave to Albert Carlson. My dreamy eyes go to Sylvia Lister so she may capture me in my moments of weakness when I come back as a full-fledged college boy.

I, JEAN HERMLE, being of sound mind and body, leave this place of strife and toil with a feeling of freedom.

I, JOANNE LINNE, being of sound mind, leave my ability to type to Dave Harman so that no one else will have to listen to "Can you type?" "Will you type this?" To Mollie Jo MacSpadden goes my ability to get good grades and extra holidays.

My ability to "hurry like mad," I, YVONNE BATES, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will to Francine Luyckfassel.

To Darlene Adsero, I, LILLIE ALLEN, will my ability to miss school on Monday mornings.

I, BOB CROKEN, will my ruler and protractor to Harvey Clauson and my neatness in doing geometry problems to Lee Nance.

I, KATHY BAVARD, leave my voice, sandwiches and milkshake recipe to the coming cheerleaders, hoping they keep the basketball team happy. To Mary Whitaker and Betty Mantyla, I leave GAA.

To the next song queen, I, ROBERTA MESSERSCHMIDT, will my little red tights if she can find them. To Marlene Greenwald goes my dentist's phone number . . . that is, if she wants a few extra bruises.

Leaving these halls of prejudice, I, PAT JONES, being of sound mind and body, will my place in Rifle Club to my sister, Dixie.

I, RICHARD BERT HANSEN, leave to the school all my dirty gym socks lying around in the locker room, and to my little brother and the rest of the Crimson Bears, the chance of winning All-Alaska again.

I, MILTON J. FURNESS JR., being a haggard wreck after four years in these salt mines, bequeath to Dave Harman and Richard Ramsey two things very near and dear to me—my height and the scoreboard in the Gym, along with everything that goes with it, including a good seat and Mr. Eide.

Being of unsound mind and body, I, JIM SOFOULIS, do leave my beaten up locker to some poor, incoming frosh, in the hopes that he can open it faster than I could. Now I am really leaving, by the basement window.

We, PHOEBE ANNE LOGAN and MARY LOU MIX, do hereby leave the halls of good old J-Hi in high spirits. We leave to the up and coming office girls our pleasant smiles and our marking of unexcused absences. To Sherry Gray and Margie Kingbeil, we will our ability to enjoy the next three years of J-Hi. To the next team, we leave our best wishes and hope that they win all-Alaska Trophy for the next two years.

I, STAN BEADLE, leave to Charlie Smith my position in shop. My locker I leave to some poor freshman. I leave the rest of the school to anybody who wants it, because I certainly don't.

I, JOAN WIGGINS, leave my ability to play string bass to any one with tough fingers. I also leave my best wishes to all Juneau High students.

To the freshmen of '50, I, HOWARD OTTKE, leave the gorgeous gals of J-Hi.

My great ability in shorthand, I, PEGGY FORWARD, leave to Paula Cook, hoping she makes better use of it than I did.

I, LEONARD MATTHEWS, hereby take my leave of this house of learning and will to the up and coming freshmen three more years of the joy and happiness that come hand in hand with the process of learning.

To Jack Gould, I, EDDIE KRAUSE, leave my car. I hope he doesn't try to get more than 93 out of it! I leave Charles Smith to finish the shelf I started in shop four years ago.

In sane mind, I, SALLY McCREA, do hereby will my skilled art talent to Eugene Temple in the hopes that he may someday improve his blackboard doodling.

I, MARVIN RHODES, being neither sane of mind nor sound of body, bequeath my knack for finding old jalopies to Bobbie Hildre.

I, JEAN FRANCIS, leave Juneau High with 3 per cent of everything I learned and all of Miss Shaw's blue pencils.

And so goeth the class of 50!

Dear Hearts and You-All,

Last night we attended the reunion banquet of the Class of '50, just twenty years from the eve of our graduation. And heavens to Elizabeth! what a lot we have to tell you! You would never believe how well the years have treated the members of the infamous class of 1950. Luck of the Ages!

The banquet was held in the Gold Room of the Baranof Hotel, and the dinner was served buffet style in order to give ye olde decrepits a better chance to get around and renew acquaintances with each other. FRANK MAIER, who was class president during our senior year, was emcee for the reunion. It took a great deal of persuasion to induce FRANK to come down from his hermit's hut on top of Mt. McKinley, where he has been hiding from women, long enough to preside over the gala affair.

RICHARD "ITCH" HANSEN served as toastmaster for the evening; he buttered the toast while YVONNE BATES poured coffee. Cups were solemnly raised as RICHARD muttered the profound statement of the evening: "Please limit yourselves to two lumps of sugar." Amen.

While we were being helped to toast and coffee, we learned that ITCH is the wealthy manufacturer of "Personalized Toothpicks," which are monogrammed upon request, with the buyers' initials. YVONNE, a fellow industrialist, has manufactured hot rods for quite a number of years.

As we looked for a place to rest our bones and eat at the same time we passed BILL KEEP and MARY LOU MIX and stopped to converse with them for a moment. They are co-models for "Snit Grit," the tooth paste that makes your teeth "rise and shine." Perhaps you have seen "Snit Grit" advertisements in which BILL and MARY LOU are featured gritting their teeth at each other.

Across the room from us we recognized ROD PEGUES, who is a professor at the noted Agricultural College, Prunes, Pears and Alfalfa. He was in deep discussion with GRAHAM ROUNTREE and MILTON FURNESS. GRAHAM, Juneau's friendly mortician, has offered stiff competition to the Carter Mortuary and dug his way into a thriving business. Motto for the Rountree Rest Establishment is: "We have the most satisfied customers in town." Milton has also advanced to prosperity since way back when; he is now vice-president to the vice-president of the vice-president.

Oh, joy! JIM SOFOULIS, author of the best-seller WINE, WOMEN and SPUDNUTS, tripped and spilled coffee all over us. To think that we were scalded by such a famous person!

Senior Class Prophecy

We only caught a fleeting glimpse of HOWARD OTTKE, president of the Alta Alta Foundation Company. He was accompanied by his wife, the former JOYCE HELTON. JOYCE designs costumes for Carmen Miranda in her spare time.

Which reminds us that we were caught up on the latest jokes by GEORGE BARRIL. Our conversations revealed that GEORGE is now a rhumba dancer in a famous night club in Uggapoca, Mexico.

We went over to see TED DAY, and thne wandered around the room and let our ears flap in the breeze trying to pick up all the news we could. And what we heard! But before we tell about that, it should be reported that TED was sitting by himself in a corner eating cabbage. It transpired that he is a traveling salesman for "Mother Murphy's Morbid Meatballs" and has become a vegetarian.

Now back to the cheerful little earful we collected on our tour. PHOEBE LOGAN CRASS was heard telling that the only way she could convince Earl that he ought to stay home and baby sit with their three darling little grandchildren while she attended the reunion was by locking him in the house with them when she left.

CAROL JEAN MacDONALD patented that new exotic perfume, "Passionate," six months ago and now lives modestly in a twelve-room pent house in New York.

BILL SPERLING has taken over Harry James' job as trumpet king, but we heard tell there was a little trouble when SPERLING insisited that Betty Grable went with the job. They finally shot craps for her, and BILL still claims that James used loaded dice.

And speaking of "loaded" brings to mind that MARVIN RHODES, STAN BEADLE and DALLAS CASPERSON are wealthy stockholders of the Grease-Off Hair Shampoo—the soap that keeps your hair feather fluffy, and makes you feel like happy hairs are here again. EDDIE KRAUSE, formerly the Superintendent of Juneau High School, now has a controlling interest in the Ford Motor Company.

For the past twenty years SALLY McCREA has been keeping the Florida beaches warm. Or was it the other way round?

ROBERTA MESSERSCHMIDT worked so hard during high school that she was all worn out by graduation; she has been resting ever since at the Heavenly Sunshine Rest Home.

Of course you recall what a wonderful cheering voice KATHERINE BAVARD had when she was a high school cheer leader. She was discovered by a talent scout during the 1950 Seward-Juneau tourney, and shortly after graduation she was signed up as a professional rooter for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

CARMEN MANTYLA is Alaska's answer to Tommy Manville. But she is one step ahead of Tommy; she neglected to divorce her previous husbands. "It's much more fun this way," she says.

DON "You Send Me" WILBER, having made a small fortune playing halfback for the Boston Bobby Socks, has retired. He lives alone on his peanut plantation, and does he have a lovely bunch of coconuts!

Do you remember BOB SOMMERS and DAN NOYES? BOB is a world famous slalom and downhill skiing champion, and author of the book, HOW I BROKE TWO HUNDRED BONES IN ONE MIGHTY SCHUSS. DAN is an illustrator for such popular magazines as CALLING ALL FEMALES and YES SQUIRE!

JOANNE SABIN wasn't at our reunion. However, she was seen circling over Ketchikan in her flying saucer, although no one seems to know just what she had in mind.

JEAN FRANCIS wasn't at the reunion either, but we did see her running past the hotel with a shotgun, followed by twelve little kids. She was shooting at a long legged bird. Now what do you suppose that was all about?

These days all Hollywood actresses are seen attired in BARBARA DAVIS Originals. Adrian is still trying to discover the secret of Barbara's success and wondering why his is a dead business. (Most of his orders now come from the undertakers.)

Another well-known fifty-ite who went into the business of outfitting milady is LILLIE ALLEN, millinery designer. Her latest creation is a distinctive little chapeau called "Fruit Salad."

VIRGINIA JOHNSON was so entertained by the fifth period English IV class back in the days of '50, that she undertook to replace Miss Sloan as instructor. She hasn't been heard expounding the virtues of teaching lately, but we presume there must be some, as she is still on the faculty.

Our little ALICE TANAKA was named the "woman athlete of the year" in 1954 for her outstanding performance as star forward on the University of Washington basketball team.

LEONARD MATTHEWS became so interested in the tuba during his role in the school play, WHAT A LIFE by Goldsmith, in '49 that he took it up as a profession. However one day he crawled inside his tuba to find out why it wouldn't play and he hasn't been seen since.

For some strange, unknown reason JOEANN LINNE decided to become an actress. She has made a name for herself as the spectacular heroine of the TARZANNA films.

During the course of our wanderings we ran into BETTY TAPLEY and nearly knocked her down. We never did find out what she has been doing all these years. She just kept laughing hysterically and mumbling, "Totem — — — Totem — — — Totem — — —"

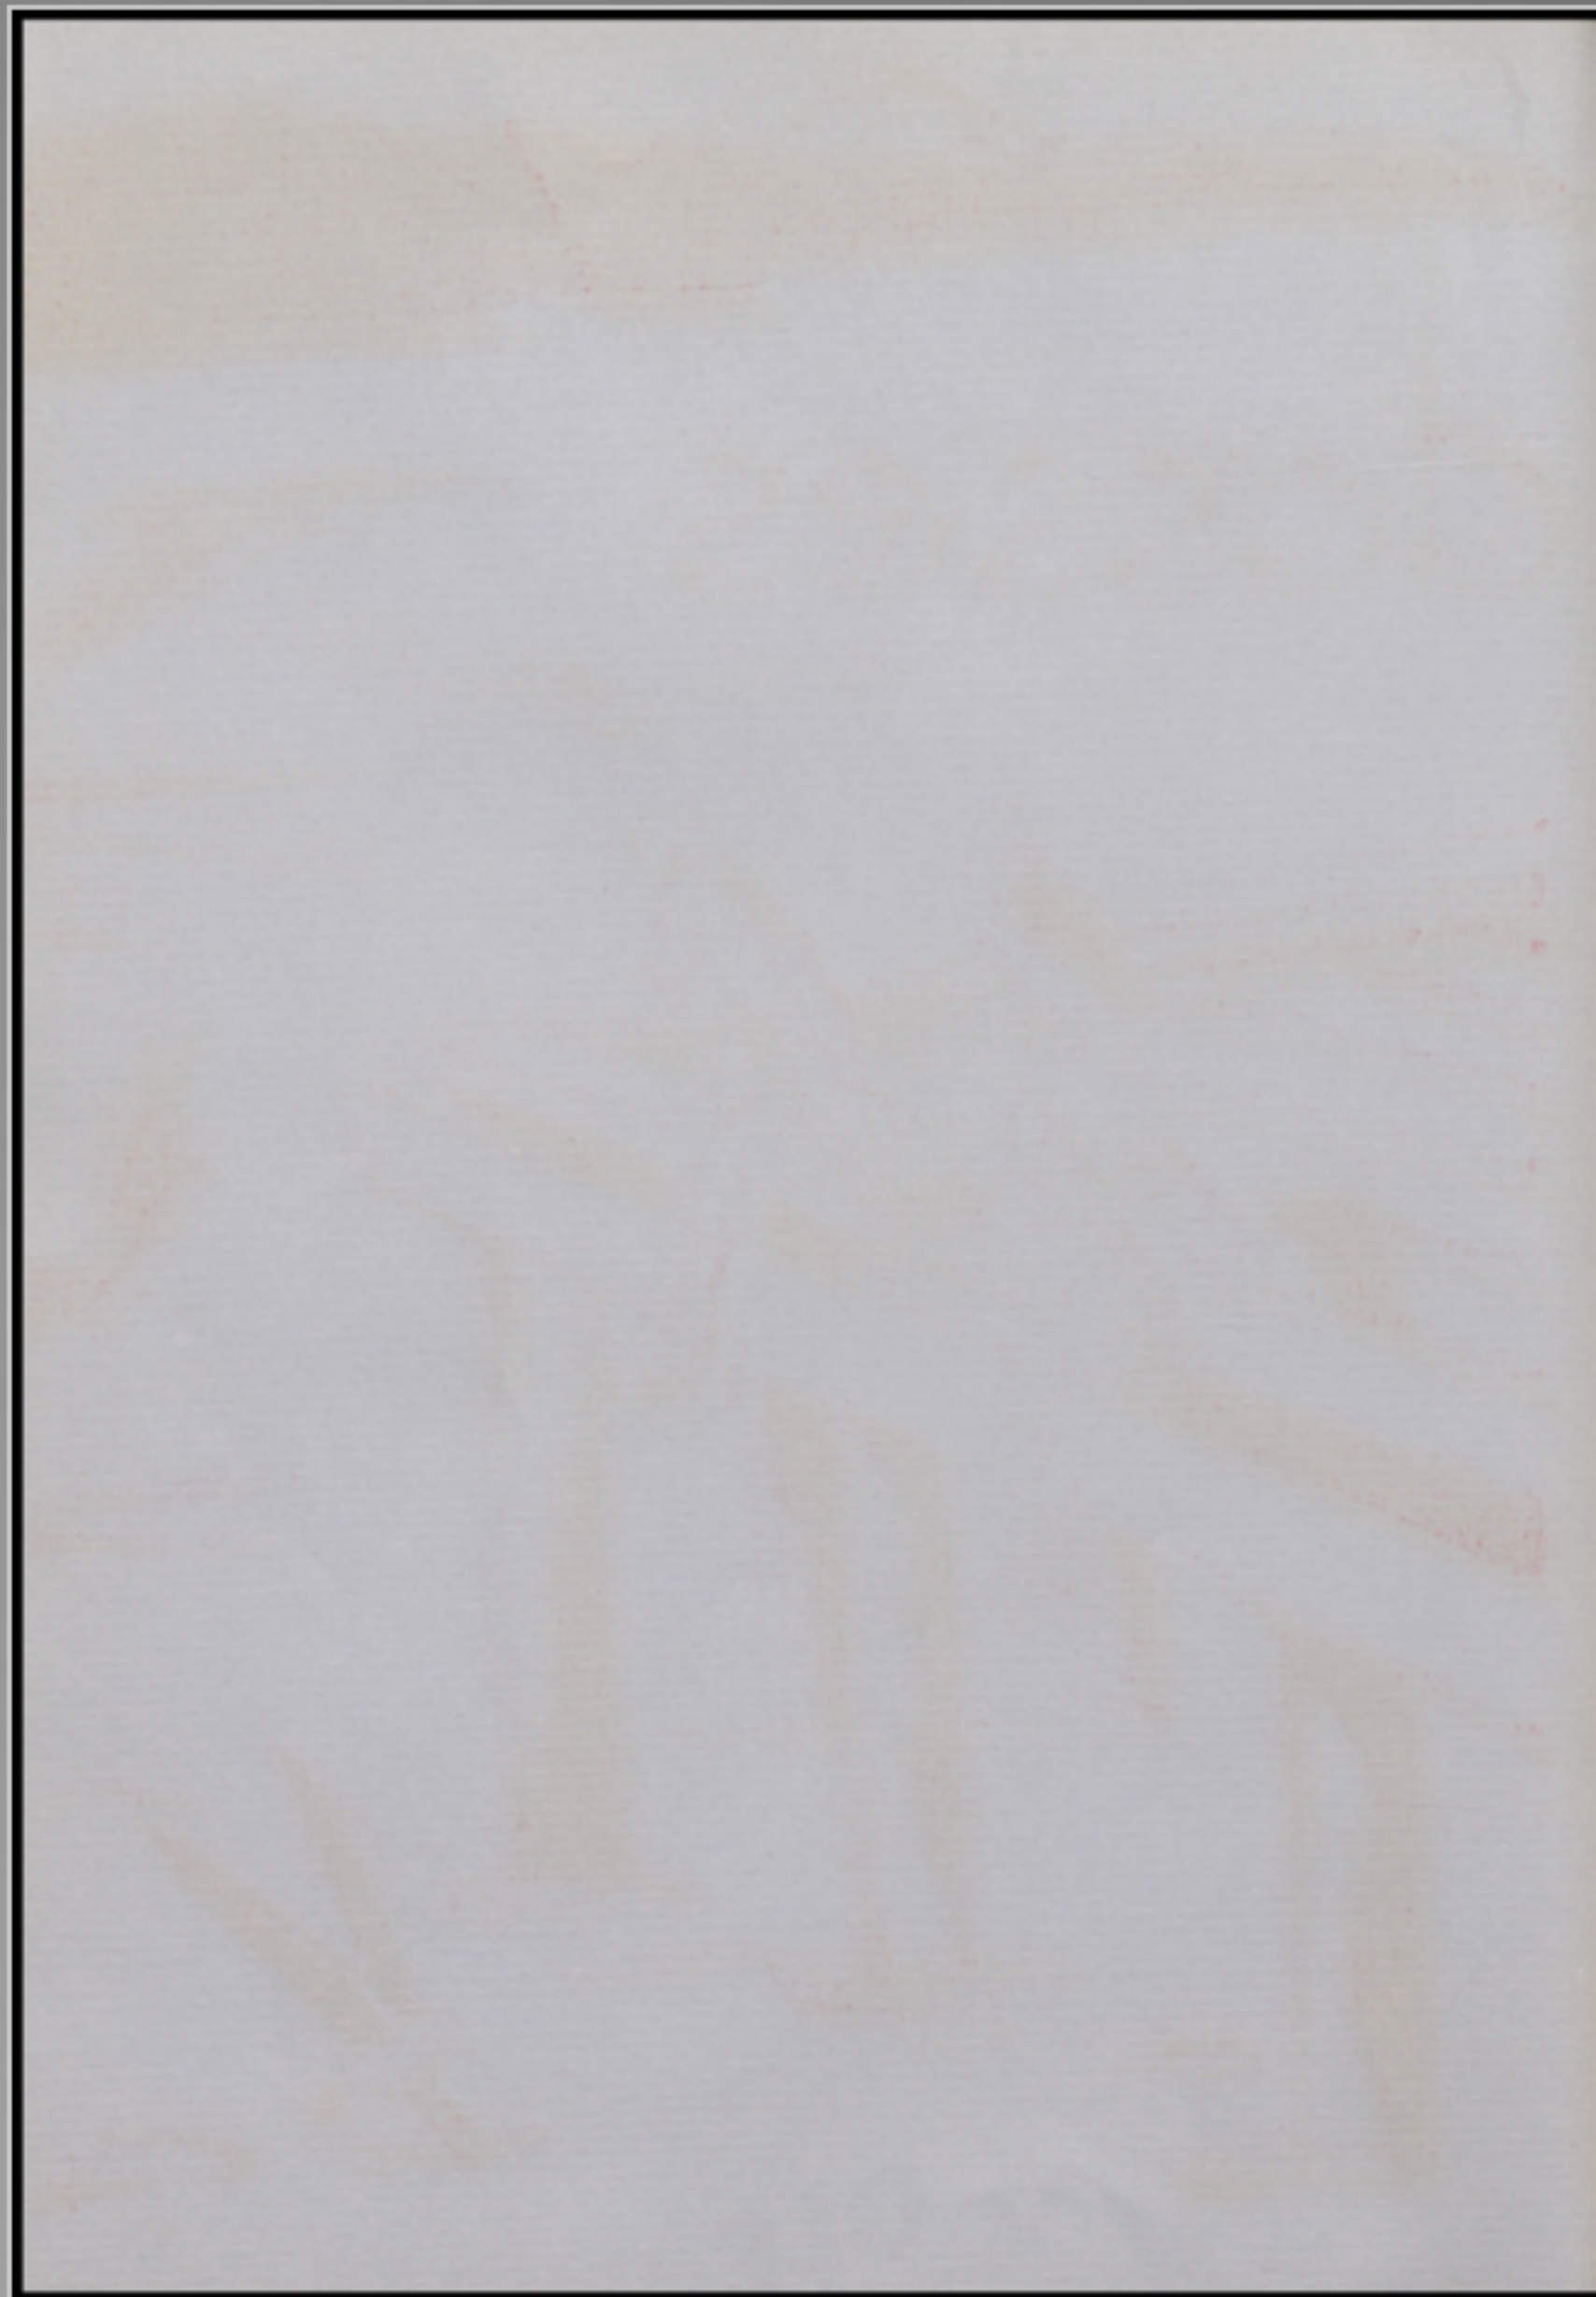

JERRY MOORE had nothing to say at the reunion. Just as he came in the door he dropped his southern accent and tripped over it; consequently he was unconscious all evening. However we learned from other sources he has taken over Coach Nickel's job at J-High as basketball coach and U. S. History teacher. It was he who talked the school board into hiring JOAN WIGGINS and her musical violin to provide a soothing atmosphere in which his students could study.

As the evening wore on, BOB CROKEN, world renowned ballet dancer, consented to treat us with his original interpretation of "Anitra's Dance" from the Peer Gynt Suite. This was followed by entertainment from three other celebrities in our midst. The Triple Tomato Trio—PEGGY FORWARD, JEAN HERMLE, and PAT JONES—gave us renditions of several "oldies," including "Rag Mop," "Cry of the Wild Goose," and "Music, Music, Music."

I, PATSY GARRETT, and I, SUE McMULLEN, having won all west coast pie-eating contests, are now rolling in dough! We raise turkeys on top of the buildings at Radio City, and write the script for our own famous radio show: "Squaws Along the Danube."

Signed, Sealed, and Respectfully Submitted,
SUE McMULLEN and PAT GARRETT.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

This year the class of '51 chose as their officers: Don MacKinnon, president; Nella Jermain, vice-president; Mary Whitaker, secretary; and Evangeline McConnel, treasurer. The adviser was Mrs. Cook.

In looking over records the foremost thing seems to be scholastic honors. Fifty-oners gaining top positions on the honor rolls were Mary Whitaker, Carl Weidman, Henry Haugen, Aileen Kronquist, Ann Henning, Bob Ripke, Fred Wyller, and Evangeline McConnel.

In the fields of sports outstanding juniors in basketball were Dave Graves, Huey Doogan, Don MacKinnon, and Jeff Pegues. G. A. A. boasted Mary Whitaker, Paula Cook, Adeline Barlow, and Ann Henning, while the Ski team listed Fred Wyller on its roster.

The school calendar this year listed such important junior dates as the hotdog sales of October 11, November 23, and February 14; the Junior Prom on March 31; and the class picnic held in May.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

At the beginning of their second year in J-Hi the sophomore class elected as their officers Lee Nance, president; Dale Osterman, vice-president; Janu McConnel, secretary; and Fred Stewart, treasurer.

Members of the class taking a leading part in activities included Donna Mountjoy, Beverly Junge, and Janu McConnel, three of the students who headed the honor roll. Other members of the class, outstanding in the field of sports, were Joe Ninnis, who made the first string in basketball, and Betty Mantyla, Janet Schultz, and Carol Larsen, who made the first team in girls basketball.

FRESHMAN CLASS

The freshman class started rolling this year in fine form; it was the largest of the four classes of J-Hi. At the first of the year the freshmen met and elected Greg Ripke, president; Bill Orme, vice-president; Elizabeth Wyller, secretary; Beda Clauson, treasurer; Sidney Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

The freshmen who have topped the honor roll this year are: Janet Flint, Russell Nelson and Robert Secrist.

VARSIITY BASKETBALL

All Alaska champs, Southeastern champs, Northern Division champs, and City League champs! Wow, what a season.

After losing six men from last year's squad, four of them six footers from the first five, things looked pretty gloomy for J-High, but, sparked by veterans Bill Sperling, Dick Hansen, and sophomore Joe Ninnis and a new styled, high power offense, the Bears enjoyed the most successful season of all time for Juneau High.

The season started with "Ourside" barely nosing out a star-studded alumni five. Next they ran into a fighting Imperial outfit that almost tied a kink in the Bears' tail, but again the boys sneaked by. The team then rolled on into some easy competition before going into hibernation for the Christmas holidays with five wins and no losses.

Coming from their brief vacation the Bears surged over the Arctics, rode past Douglas in what could have been a close game, then almost got upset by a surprisingly good Moose quintet. Next they whipped by Caslers for their second win from that team, and followed by putting the blast on the Storis.

More high school play was in the offing, so the Scarlet and Black hopped a plane to Sitka and dropped an inexperienced Sitka High team two in a row. The next night "Ourside" found out what it felt like to have Sitka ANB put the blocks to them and stop their winstreak at twelve games.

Soon after the Bears returned home, Mike's Night Owls from Douglas added one more loss to the Bears' record, dumping J-Hi 47-38. The Bears came roaring back the following week to drop a star-studded Columbia Lumber five, 47-33, and win their first crown of the year, the City League.

Douglas High was next on the list and bowed out of Southeastern competition by losing their third consecutive game to J-High.

The following week Skagway came to town and, led by crafty Barney Anderson, ex-J-High mentor, gave the Bears some lumps by dropping them 41-32. The following night the Bears came snarling back, chased the Panthers up a tree and kept them there to win going away, 60-34. Two days later the two quintets met in a playoff, and, in a hammer and tongs affair, which saw five men leave the game via the foul route, J-High won the Northern Division of Southeastern Alaska, 44-38.

Next week the school colors were carried by Alaska Steam to the gateway city of Ketchikan. The Bears overcame an early Ketchikan lead in the first game and went on to win, 54-33. Next night the Bears enjoyed an early lead but lost most of it to win only by five points., 45-40. It was enough, though for Southeast Alaska was ours.

Nine days later Seward High, winner of Northern Alaska, with a gang of repeaters and over six footers arrived in town for the All Alaska championship. The first game was definitely Juneau's, as the new court and change in refereeing took their toll on Seward. (Juneau 54, Seward, 43.) Next night a better Seward team hit the floor and in a desperate last minute rally overcame a nine point lead to lose by only one point. All-Alaska was ours, but many people wondered who really was the best—Juneau or Seward. A final consolation game solved that, when, with Seward ahead by one point and only two minutes and seventeen seconds to go, the Bears ran wild to win by fourteen points and their highest score of the year, 72-58.

This year the boys got together and made up an All-Opponent team:

Anderson of Seward.....	F	Sey of Douglas	F
Steele of Seward	C	Tunley of Skagway.....	C

PEP CLUB

SONG QUEENS & CHEERLEADERS

In a closely contested election held on November 11, 1949, this year's song queens and cheer leaders were chosen. There were three teams trying for the positions of song queens and one team for that of cheer leaders.

Those elected to lead the student body in singing were Dixie Lee Tandy and Roberta Messerschmidt. Those elected to the post of cheer leading were Katherine Bavard, Carol Shellenbarger and Dick Keithahn.

During the season Carol Shellenbarger left for Ketchikan, and to take her place the student body chose Mary Lou Mix.

In their second year of keeping up school spirit and backing the Crimson Bears, the Pep Club (Crimson Cubs) started in full swing right after Christmas vacation. Heading each class as representatives were Joanne Sabin, senior; Mary Whitaker, junior; and Erna Stender, sophomore. Miss De Spiegelaere was chosen as faculty adviser.

To be eligible for membership the girls were picked on the basis of scholarship, school spirit, personality and an "A" in citizenship. The girls gave two luncheons, one for the visiting Skagway team, and another when Seward was here to play All-Alaska. The drill team performed for the home coming of the Ji-Hi team from Ketchikan and also for the Seward-J-Hi series. Drill leaders were Erna Stender and Mary Whitaker.

RIFLE CLUB

The Boys' and Girls' Rifle Club, under the direction of Mr. A. N. Eide, has had a very successful year. The Club has over fifty members, each member having reached or passed the rank of Sharpshooter.

AFFILIATION: This Club is affiliated with the National Rifle Association of America, an organization which includes thousands of Rifle Clubs throughout America and is connected with the United States Army.

OBJECTIVES: The Junior program of the N.R.A. has been developed to bring out those qualities of sportsmanship, fair play, manliness, self-control and co-operation so essential to success in life; and to teach the safe way of handling firearms, and through these objectives acquire marksmanship and skill in shooting.

OFFICERS: Club officers for the year were:

President—Bob Sommers.	Vice President—Kathy Bavard.
Sec.-Treas.—C. J. MacDonald.	Range Officer—Dick Keithahn.

INDIVIDUAL AWARDS: Topping the list of Rifle Club members are Bob Sommers, Kathy Bavard, and Betty Tapley, who spent the winter working for the highest honor the Junior N.R.A. can offer, Distinguished Rifleman. Expert Rifleman, second highest award, has been earned this year by Harry Brensdal, Dick Keithahn and Lynn Bodding.

Offhand, bars have been earned by C. J. MacDonald, Leonard Matthews, and Mary Whitaker. Those earning bars in kneeling were Adaline Barlow, Ted Day, Dick Forrest, Ann Henning, Ken Hildreth, Lois Lawrence, Sally McCrea, Betty Mantyla, Roberta Messerschmidt, Jay Osterman, Jeff Pegues, Carl Weidman and Fred Wyller. Sitting bars were earned by Bill Brensdal, Ervin Butts, Paula Cook, Harvey Clauson, Sally Crooks, Manuel Diaz, Dick Hansen, Beverly Junge, Dale Osterman, Anne Parsons, Gerald Shaw, Gertrude Treffers, Ralph Treffers, Joan Wiggins, and Pat Garrett. Other qualifications were shot in the prone positions.

AMMUNITION: The Club's ammunition is ordered from the N.R.A., which gives a special rate to all clubs affiliated with it. J-High's Club used approximately 30,000 rounds during the year.

EQUIPMENT: The equipment used by the Club is its own. This includes rifles, spotting scope, sling keepers (new this year), targets, and ammunition. New shooting jackets for the club are on order as well as ammunition for the coming year. The shooting jackets will be uniforms for a rifle team.

FUNDS: The money needed to carry on the Rifle Club during the year was made by pop sales at local basketball games and two dollars per year dues from each member. At one time the club's treasury amounted to $700, but new equipment and ammunition needed for next year's start left approximately $100 to be carried over the summer.

MEETINGS: Meetings were held every Wednesday evening in the AB Hall indoor rifle range, alternating the boys and girls weekly. Special shoots were held on Monday nights and once during Christmas.

MATCHES: A prone match between the boys and girls was held in February with the following outcome:

Second Year Boys	903	Second Year Girls	896
First Year Boys	825	First Year Girls	906

High scorers for each squad were Dick Keithahn, Mary Whitaker, Dick Forrest, and Betty Tapley.

BIG BORE SHOOTING: Shooting with 30-06's, both girls and boys learned the fundamentals of big bore marksmanship. Trips to the Mendenhall Glacier range were planned to add a new interest for the Rifle Club members.

By Katherine Bavard.

SKIING

Skiing was first organized in Juneau about 1932 by Dan Moller. It has been reported that Archie Jonas pioneered the sport as early as 1912 on an individual basis. When J-Hi adopted it as a minor sport in 1935 it was the first of a series of steps forward that brought it to its present position as a major sport.

The reason for the long development period of over 15 years was not due to the lack of good ski areas. Mountains around Juneau have as fine snow conditions as any in the world. The slowness was due to the barriers which have been constantly placed in its path. Some of these are difficulty in getting to the upper ski areas because of lack of roads or tows, the expense of ski equipment, strenuous physical exercise, and insufficient backing by the student body. It is hoped that the ski barriers which so crippled its development in the past are now gone. Skiing can become one of J-High's greatest assets if it can get the whole-hearted support of the student body, faculty, and school board.

After reading the accounts below of our races and mountaineering one can see that skiing is here to stay.

First Ski Team

Bill Keep
Bob Sommers

Betty Tapley

Jack Gould
Fred Wyller

The ski team is picked through a system of qualification races. Points are awarded to the winners of each race. The five racers having the most points are chosen for the team.

WHITEHORSE WINTER CARNIVAL

On February 6, the ski team participated in the Whitehorse Carnival. The events in which the team entered were slalom, downhill, and jumping. The cross-country race was called off due to 40-below weather. Team placings were:

Keep—1st jumping.
Sommers—2nd slalom; 3d downhill.
Wyller—1st downhill; 3rd jumping.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

The activities of the skiers this year included several outdoor bean and hotdog sales and a meet in the Evergreen Bowl with the Senior Ski Club. Before the snow arrived the new members were treated to a feed in the home economics room. This feed is to be an annual event.

SKI MOUNTAINEERING

Skiing, as it has been understood in this school, is a competitive sport. Many students and skiers think that to master skiing one must hurtle down a race course trying to beat someone's time. This is a mistaken idea. Ski mountaineering requires technique, courage, intelligence, coordination, and top physical development, even more than racing.

Nothing is more beautiful than the sun playing upon the unbroken powder snow high above the timber line. One may swing linked turns for miles down a slope while a trail of powder floats lightly behind.

You may hear a tow skier say that it is too hard work to climb to the summits. He may be under the impression that he gets more benefits from his volume of downhill runs than the mountaineer with his long runs. This is a mistaken idea as he does not develop his legs, has no knowledge of how to ski changing snow conditions, and is apt to have a sense of fear. His all-around skill is in no way comparable to that of the mountaineer.

Skiing is a sport that may be enjoyed by all. It makes no difference what age a person is. The thrill of the speed and the beauty of the surroundings will never lose their effect upon you even if you have done the same run and seen the same sights many times. Once you have skied on the upper snow fields you will never be able to leave the ranks of the mountaineers. It is only through skiing the skyline that you will discover the true beauty of nature.

GIRLS ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

GAA was organized at the first of the year with a membership of fifty girls. The officers for the year were president, Kathy Bavard; vice-president, Betty Tapley; secretary, Ann Henning; and treasurer, Betty Mantyla. GAA adviser was Miss De Spiegelare. Meetings were held on Tuesdays and Fridays after school.

The first six weeks of school were spent playing volleyball, and two teams were soon chosen. Each first teamer received a ten point bonus for winning two out of three games against second team. At the playoffs the first team won over the second (15-11 and 15-10).

FIRST TEAM—Ann Henning, Ad Barlow, B. Mantyla, K. Bavard, J. Schultz, P. Cook, M. Whitaker, C. Larsen, C. Shellenbarker.

SECOND TEAM—E. Hollmann, Al. Barlow, B. Junge, A. Tanaka, E. Stender, B. Tapley, G. Trefers, A. Warner, R. Messerschmidt.

THE TOTEM

Basketball was played exclusively from the middle of October to February. The girls were very enthusiastic about this sport, and the first, second, and third teams often had turnouts on Saturday also. D-Hi GAA girls were invited to play J-Hi girls in our gym on February 14.

For the game Juneau girls wore white shirts and dark shorts while Douglas girls wore plaid shirts and jeans. Bob Croken and Dave Graves were referees and Ted Day kept the scorebook. Milton Furness ran the scoreboard. J-Hi's first team took the lead at the first quarter with a score of 20-7. During the last half some fine ball playing was demonstrated from both teams, especially Douglas. Mary Cuthbert fooled our guards time after time and came out 17 points to the good. Betty Mantyla, Juneau's ace, was high pointer for the game with 19 points.

After winning the game (61-36), the J-Hi girls served supper for the Douglas girls in the Home Ec room to show their appreciation for the opportunity to play with such good sports.

Other activities during the year were organized hikes, softball, and tournaments in badminton, ping-pong, and shuffleboard. The girls took advantage of these activities to gain extra points toward their J's as well as to participate in some of their favorite pastimes.

J-Day awards were eagerly hoped for by the following girls.

TUMBLING

Tumbling—the art of manipulating the body in feats of skill. Thus the dictionary describes one of Juneau High's minor sports. However, tumbling was not always the active sport it is now. The first records of any form of exercise like this were found to date back to the Fifth Century B. C. and somewhat resembled modern day ballet. It was performed only by women because their long, flowing hair made the performance stranger and wilder.

In the early Middle Ages the sport declined in popularity when the Roman theatre fell and the Christian Church condemned it.

As soon as colonization in America had progressed to a point where a journey to the new land would prove worth-while, wandering entertainers, jugglers, tumblers, etc., crossed the Atlantic. After the Revolutionary War entertainment began to flourish on a grand scale and included Rickett's circus which General Washington was fond of visiting. Up to the time of the Civil War, Yankee circuses had all but run foreign competition off the road and an exhibition of tumbling even helped a clown from the North. He did a few tricks for his Dixie captors and thus earned his release. After the Civil War tumbling continued to expand in scope and soon after World War I it was accepted as part of the curricula in many schools.

Although the J-Hi tumbling Club gave no exhibitions this year, regular turnouts and practices were held under the supervision of Mr. Avrit. At the beginning of the year the club lost five of its second and third year men to the basketball squad, and it is generally agreed that their tumbling experience contributed greatly in developing that coordination and agility that is needed in basketball. Several members also belonged to the Ski Club and it goes without saying how much tumbling experience helps in that sport. This year's team of seasoned veterans, none of whom were seniors, will provide a good nucleus for a team next year which will continue to perpetuate this ancient sport.

ARCHERY

Archery was introduced into J-Hi in 1935. It has been offered every year since that time except during the war years, when it was not possible to get the supplies needed.

The first semester of this year was spent in getting the equipment ready for use. The backdrop, targets, and quivers were repaired.

Most of the second semester has been spent in learning the fundamentals of archery. The meetings take place every Wednesday and Friday during activity periods in the gym. Groups consist of two sections of girls who meet on Wednesday and one section of boys who meet on Friday. Each archer purchased his own arrows. The school supplies the quivers, targets, backdrops, bows, and arm guards.

A great variety of activity is possible to the archer—ranging from target shooting, clout, roving, archery golf, and novelty shots, to the actual hunting of small and large game.

The Archery Club has been thinking about practicing in the Evergreen Bowl during the nice weather. Mrs. Phillips, director of the club, says that the reason the club has not practiced there before is that large amounts of equipment must be carried to the Bowl because of lack of targets there.

The indoor range has its compensations. Archers can learn the fundamentals of good form. Because of shorter distances, much more shooting can be done in the same length of time. Absence of winds and other disturbing factors gives a better chance for self-analysis and improvements of technique.

The Juneau High Archery Tournament is played fifteen ends at twenty yards, an end consisting of six arrows. The winner's name is placed on the archery trophy, which is kept in J-Hi's trophy case.

THE TOTEM

THE BAND

Here it is 1950, and another year of books, music, and social activities.

The Juneau High School Band has spent a prosperous year performing at school assemblies, putting on concerts, establishing a new point system for letter awards, and participating in various other musical activities.

In order to establish a better means of securing a letter award for service in band, a new military point system was started this year. Under the supervision and advice of Mr. Shofner, band director, a staff of nine members was appointed to draw up the new system and to approve the number of points for each band accomplishment. Points are given for such things as a perfect inspection for the individual's instrument, playing at school assemblies and special rehearsals (other than scheduled ones first period in the morning), extra practice at home, and staff work. Those people who are rated in the top twenty-five percent and are in Grade School now will receive a minor award after two and a half years of service in the band. Arrangements have been made to give High School students a major award with two years of service. Staff members this year were Bill Sperling, band captain; Sylvia Lister, secretary-treasurer; Sylvia Davis, librarian; Sue McMullen and Bud Schultz, student directors; George Messerschmidt, prop manager; Carl Weidman, quartermaster; Carol Jean MacDonald, head drum majorette; and Joanne Sabin, monitor.

Among the activities the band participated in this year were the supervision and arrangements of the Eugene High School Band Concert. The High School Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Byron Miller, a former Juneau band director, gave an outstanding concert on New Year's Eve at 8:00.

The Juneau Band had fully prepared the Eugene Band with a nicely decorated gym as a concert hall. Curtains were hung and signs were pinned welcoming the visitors. Although their boat was to sail for Skagway at 11:30 that evening, the band turned itself into an orchestra which played at the Scottish Rite Temple at a dance which was held in their honor.

Not only the band as a whole is to be congratulated for their splendid work done this year, but also those individuals who have taken part in various musical quartets, duets, and solos. On several occasions some members of the band have been called on to perform at different civic organizations such as the Rotary, Lions, and Kiwanis. Some of these people were Gary Hedges, trombonist; Sue McMullen, pianist; Bill Sperling, trumpeter; Fred Wyller, flutist; Marilyn Crooks, flutist; and Joan Williamson, flutist.

To add to the band's list of achievements for the past two years is the presentation of the Arion award to the outstanding graduating band member. This award which is outstanding because "It honors the worthy student; there is only one presented each year to band, orchestra and choir; it is responsible for many college scholarship awards; it is a means of gaining local publicity for your school musical organization; and it ties in the community to the school music program." This award has been presented only once before and that was to Clair Dunlap for band and Jerry Magorty for chorus. The Arion award was provided locally by the Kiwanis of Juneau who have also published the winners' pictures in the National Kiwanis Magazine. Presentation this year was made to Bill Sperling, band student, and Robert Croken, choral member.

THE CHORUS

This year the music groups of Juneau High School, under the direction of Miss Virginia Long, made their first appearance at the Christmas Concert held on Tuesday, December 20th. A matinee was held for school students during that evening. They also performed for Douglas High School.

The concert, with a theme of "Three Wise Men," was opened with a solo by Bob Croken, "Seek Ye The Lord." This was followed by the Girls' Chorus, singing three songs—"I wonder As I Wander," "Willie Take Your Drum," and "Gesu Bambino." Gladys Uggen sang "Sweet Little Jesus Boy," a solo.

"O, Nightingale Awake" by Dickinson and Bortniansky's "Cherubim Song" were presented by the Mixed Chorus. Reger's "Virginia Slumber Song" was sung by the Girls' Sextet.

A duet, Handel's "He Shall Feed His Flock," was then sung by Adaline Barlow and Janu McConnel. This was followed by a quartet, Don Morrison, Bob Croken, Adaline Barlow and Janu McConnel, singing, "Lo, How a Rose E're Blooming," by Praetorius.

The last two selections sung were "In Dulci Jubile," presented by a small mixed chorus and "Oh, Holy Night," a solo by Donna Jewett.

The music groups this year caught the interest of many students. The chorus had a membership of sixty-six and the Girls' Glee Club had thirty members. Besides these there were also a mixed quartet and a Girls' Sextet, composed of Carol Bacon, Evangeline McConnel, Jeanette Melseth, Gladys Uggen, Donna Mountjoy and Anne Haugen.

The Chorus also plans to participate at the graduation exercises and at the Baccalaureate. At the former they will sing "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and at the Baccalaureate they will present "Thanks Be to Thee" by Handel and "Fairest Jesus Child."

"WHAT A LIFE"

The Juneau High Student Body went all out this year on a Henry Aldrich play, directed by Miss Helen Schaefer. The play was presented before a large audience, Friday evening, November 18, in the High School gymnasium. The cast was as follows:

Miss Shea	Mary Lou Mix	Gertie	Mollie MacSpadden
Mr. Nelson	Carl Weidman	Mr. Bradley	Milton Furness
Mr. Patterson	Robert Croken	Miss Wheeler	Ann Henning
Miss Pike	Patricia Garrett	George Bigelow	Donald MacKinnon
Bill	Robert Secrist	Mrs. Aldrich	Nella Jermain
Miss Eggleston	Mary Nordale	Mr. Ferguson	Leonard Matthews
Miss Johnson	Paula Cook	Mary	Sylvia Davis
Mr. Vecchitto	Edward Dull	Student	Carol Shellenbarger
Henry Aldrich	Henry Haugen	Student	Aleda Warner
Barbara Pearson	Carol Jean MacDonald	Student	Ted Day

The play opened with a typical school day in the life of Henry Aldrich. After creating a disturbance in study hall, cheating, and consequently flunking his test, Henry was accused of pawing the band's brass section.

It took three complete acts for Henry to get himself out of these scrapes and finally to get to go to the dance. But with uproarious hilarity he and his schoolmates succeeded in managing their school affairs and keeping the audience in a constant chuckle.

The students worked very hard and were rewarded by a successful production with a large attendance.

THE HOBO HOP

The annual Publications Hop, sponsored by the high school publications staffs, was held Friday night, October 21, in the high school gymnasium. Due to the combined efforts of the male members of the journalism class, a number of large logs were taken from a Fritz Cove logging area and placed in the gymnasium, along with many small spruce trees and branches. With a hobo campfire constructed in the center of the gym surrounded by logs, a genuine-looking hobo jungle was created.

Everyone was required to be dressed in hobo fashion in order to be admitted. There was entertainment, including hillbilly and hobo songs by two groups, one consisting of boy hoboes and the other of girls. Prizes were given to the boy and girl hoboes dressed in the funniest and most convincing hobo costumes: Jerry Moore and Mary Whitaker. Excellent food, spaghetti with meat balls and milk was enjoyed by the large number of Juneau High School students and alumni that attended.

SENIOR BALL

The setting for the Senior Ball was an old-fashioned Christmas according to the season in which it was held. On December 16 the dance was given in the High School gymnasium from 9 to 12.

The big evergreen tree against a filmy-white background was the center of attraction with its tinsel, many colored lights, and web-like angel's hair. A large realistic chimney adorned one end of the gymnasium, through which came a genuine Santa Claus, personified by Mr. Henry Harmon, who started the entertainment, which was enjoyed very much by the students. Mr. and Mrs. Santa led the Christmas Waltz which followed.

A large crowd attended, including many alumni, and the dance was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

THE JUNIOR PROM

In an atmosphere of southern hospitality, Katherine Bavard was crowned queen of the Junior Prom.

"A Date in Dixieland" was the theme of the prom, which was held March 1 in the gym. A beautiful southern sion adorned one end of the gym with rambling roses twining up each of its four pillars. The queen's throne was situated between the two middle columns. Colorful flower beds and trees draped with Spanish moss decorated the lawn. Japanese lanterns hung from the ceiling, adding a summery tint to the festivities. The "Taku Wind-jammers" were situated in front of a half-circle rose arbor, playing southern music in keeping with the theme.

The first feature of the entertainment of the evening was seven southern songs sung by Dan Noyes, Bud Schultz, and Don Morrison. A skit was then presented by members of the Senior Class.

At the magic hour of 12:00, Don MacKinnon and Janet Flint led the grand march. Following the march, Queen Katherine Bavard and her six attendants—Mary Lou Mix, Phoebe Ann Logan, Betty Tapley, Roberta Messerschmidt, Alice Tanaka, and Carol Jean MacDonald—entered. Allan MacKinnon bore the queen's crown of beautiful waxed white roses. She was crowned by Don MacKinnon, Junior Class president.

THE TOLO DANCE

The traditional Tolo Dance, sponsored by the Girls' Club, was held April 28. This semi-formal affair was the only chance of the year when the girls squired the boys and paid all expenses.

The gay decorations followed a theme of "Make Mine Music" and were under the able chairmanship of Mary Lou Mix.

PHOTO CLUB

A number of the members of the Photo Club of 1948-49 and those who were interested in membership this year met in the shop the latter part of the first semester to get organized.

Freda Greenewald was elected president; Janet Schultz, vice-president; Mary Nordale, secretary; and Ruth Posey, treasurer. The Photo Club has eleven members. The Club adviser is Mr. Roos.

During the first meetings a rough schedule was discussed and dues were set at one dollar. The club met in the shop the first Monday and second Thursday of the month at 7:30. Because the club does not have a darkroom the shop was used as one.

Mr. Roos helped the members to understand the principles of photography by answering the various questions on film, developing film, types of cameras, and composition.

The club has developed film, printed pictures, taken portraits, and most of the members have taken action shots of the basketball games; but the majority of the time has been spent enlarging pictures. Enlargements of scenic pictures, portraits, and various other pictures have been produced.

A movie was shown to the club on how to take pictures with a photo-flash or flood lights. Immediately after the movie the members of the Photo Club put into practice what they had just learned.

Eager members of the Photo Club were found throughout the year trying to snap the perfect action shot; this was for a contest being held by the club. The member getting the best picture would be treated to a soda by the less fortunate photographers.

DEBATE

Debate started this year soon after Christmas and was culminated by the annual trip to Petersburg on April 14-15. It was a three-way meet with Juneau, Petersburg, and Ketchikan participating.

The question this year was "Resolved: That the President of the United States should be elected by the direct vote of the people?"

About fifteen turned out and took part in the original panel discussions.

Robert Secrist, Nella Jermain, and Carl Weidman were the members of the affirmative side. The negative was represented by Elton Engstrom, Connie Williams, and Henry Haugen. Richard Klingbeil was alternate.

The first regular debate was given on March 22 before the entire student body. The following week a debate was given during the evening for the general public. Panel discussions were presented before several local clubs.

Miss Helen Schaefer was coach and all team members received a major debate letter.
