Awareness...of the beauty around us, beauty within us. To open your mind with all its senses and rediscover our world, both the intricate and the vast. Open your eyes to those around you, looking upon them, and especially yourself, as individuals, each unique. Our theme of awareness attempts to capture the feeling of this year's search to find good in everything and everyone. With this thought in mind, venture forth and recognize such memories.....

*We are living in a world of beauty,
but how few of us
open our eyes
to see it!*

*What a different

VICE-PRINCIPAL
Donald Ritchie

"Seriously, now, the students in this school ARE basically good."

Our goal is to make the school a better place in which to learn. Toward this, we work with both students and teachers.

The principal and his staff aim to help students achieve a better understanding of themselves, their abilities, interests, and career choices. "Know thyself" are the by-words.

The administration also seeks to help students understand our society and its many opportunities and aspects. To this end many different courses, programs, and co-curricular activities are supported and encouraged.

COUNSELOR
Helen Hanson

Counseling department activities involve guiding individuals or groups in the solution of occupational, educational, personal, or social problems. Typical situations are: assisting students in occupational choices, in understanding college admissions requirements and curricula, in registration for college entrance exams, applying for scholarships, counseling students in planning their high school programs, assisting troubled students with social adjustment problems and in some instances simply lending a listening ear to a student who needs to talk to an adult.

ENGLISH

The English program is based on the student's ability, need, and interest. The selective English program gives the student the chance of deciding what he will take.

Approximately forty-five quarter English courses are offered at Juneau-Douglas High School. A great amount of required courses are set up during each hour of the day making it easier for the student to enroll in that particular class.

The English Department is working closely with the Junior High staff to coordinate the English curricula. Next year the program will be exclusively selective and it is hoped that a larger variety of courses will be offered.

The foreign language department offers four years of high school level French or Spanish.

Perhaps the most basic reason for learning a foreign language is the desire to expand our intellectual and cultural horizons. Through contact with people of another culture, we see how the rest of the world lives.

To understand the world and its people, we should understand the languages.

The school board this year dedicated their energies toward having every student, that completes his education in the Juneau schools, to be either oriented with a job skill or to be educationally ready for college or both.

With this in mind, the vocational education department has added one new administrative and two new teaching positions. Also, the industrial arts courses will eventually become vocationally oriented, rather than merely survey courses.

The purpose of Home Economics is to better prepare the student for a happy and more successful family life. Courses are offered in five major areas: foods and nutrition, clothing and textiles, child development, housing and interior design, and marriage and family relations.

The economics curriculum has been changed considerably from general to specific home economics courses. With specialized courses, the student can take exactly what he wants.

This year the department offered several new courses. Food service is a two hour class in which food is prepared as it would be in a restaurant. Other firsts are classes in child development, interior designing and boys' chef. All of these are semester courses. Freshmen and sophomores can take a course in family relations while seniors take a class in family living.

The great variety of courses offers students of any grade level to participate, which is what the department is aiming toward.

Mrs. Kelton and Mrs. Ryals put forth a cooperative effort in teaching.

Perhaps the most important development in physical education is being able to work, play, and show excellent sportsmanship with fellow students.

Mathematics helps us to explain, control, and understand the patterns of our world and of the universe. It also provides us with a unique experience in mental thought.

Because of the ever increasing importance of mathematics, the department must look for many new approaches to meet the changing needs of the students. This year a new concept of teaching Algebra I was introduced. A team of student aides and two teachers held two classes alternately in large and small groups. New material was introduced in the large group and working time was provided in the small groups. While the new material was introduced by one teacher the other was organizing and developing the next unit. The program had two main advantages. The students received better prepared material and individual help.

STUDENT LIFE

*It was not a perfect year.
But has there ever been a perfect year?
Has there ever been a year
When all the love and health and fame
We wished for one another
Ever came to pass?*

*Yes, despite the disappointments
Of these, our complex lives,
We learn to make do, make better, make believe
That better days will come.*

*And if we do continue to believe
Who is to say
The perfect year will not yet be here?*

Student Council strives for Student Involvement

This year the Student Council started a new service for the benefit of all students in J-D High. It came in the form of a new student counseling program. By working in conjunction with the school's counseling staff, this program was able to provide needed information to the students and it helped lighten the load at the main counseling office.

Student Council proceeded in other directions, too. Representatives were sent to the Western Alaska Student Council Convention primarily to observe the structure and function of that organization. The results of this meeting were reflected by the proposal to form a Southeast Alaska Student Council Association that would meet annually during the Southeast Basketball Tournament. Council also played a part in the upkeep of J-D High this year by choosing the new colors in the school's halls. Careful thought and consideration resulted in a better all-round atmosphere.

Council also encountered some problems which continually plagued J-D High year after year. Litter, attendance, pep, and similar problems will always remain but with the all-around co-operation shown this year, they were definitely easier to live with.

As the current trend is turning toward listening to the voice and opinion of the young, it is important that the young learn and understand some of the processes of our government. Student Council helps to provide opportunities for students to become involved. It helps provide the leadership to guide all students toward a common goal.

Pub Hop's Moonshiner's select...

An exciting moment for all . . . Jill is announced Queen.

Jani Bokala turns over her crown.

Each year the Pub Hop is held to raise money for the Publication classes, TOTEM and J-BIRD, and to crown the Totem Queen for that year. The Juniors select five of their girls to reign as the Totem Royalty; and from these five the entire student body votes for a Queen. It is traditional that she be crowned by the queen of the preceding year.

The Pub Hop was held on October twenty-second in the Marie Drake Junior High School's gym. The J-Bird and Totem staffs decided on "Moonshiners" -- a theme of jeans, patches, and straw hats. Everyone had "one knee-slappin' good time."

Eleven thirty marked the highlight of the dance. The drums rolled and the Queen was announced. Jill Straty will reign as the 1971-72 TOTEM QUEEN.

The Senior Ball was held on Monday, December 21st, 1971 in the Gold Room of the Baranof Hotel.

The night's activities began at seven o'clock with a steak dinner in the Baranof Latchstring. At nine-thirty the Gold Room doors were opened, the Ball began. The decorations portrayed a winter theme with twinkling stars and a glittering moon. The music was provided by the Bill Wence Trio. At one o'clock, the evening was brought to a close with a breakfast served at the Teen-age Club.

Upperclassmen tie for wood collecting,

To mark the beginning basketball season, the cheerleaders planned an assembly and "Snake Dance" to promote school spirit and student enthusiasm. At the assembly the traditional Spirit Jug is awarded to the loudest and most spirited class. This year the class of '73 was honored with this distinction for the second consecutive year. After the assembly the student body participated in the Snake Dance; destination Evergreen Bowl and the blazing Bonfire. Seniors and Juniors tied this year in wood collecting, leaving the unfortunate underclassmen the fun job of cleaning up the remaining wood and ashes! And again another basketball season begins...

Spirit Week of 1972 brought out a lot more competition and spirit among the classes than in the previous years. After the events for the first day, all of the classes' scores were very close except for the Juniors who kept their tradition by being disqualified in two of the three events. The sophomores were on top and stayed there through the third day. With the last day of spirit week a new class took the lead.

As the pile of contestants cleared the floor, marking the close of another spirited spirit week, the scores were quickly figured. The standings showed the Seniors with thirty eight points which was good enough for fourth place, the Freshmen took third place with thirty nine points, the Sophomores topped them with forty points for second place, and the Junior class of 1973 had a total of forty three points giving them the first place blue ribbon.

Chicks and Dudes Against Apathy is one of the newer clubs, having had its start only two years ago. In their fight against apathy in the school, CDAA has introduced a new figure, Superbear. Superbear helped to promote school spirit by turning up at assemblies and appearing in CDAA skits. This year, CDAA members sold windshield stickers that had basketball schedules on them, ran the concession stand, and sponsored dances. Along with fund raising activities, the members showed up at most athletic events to support the school teams.

Clubs aid cultural action

Spanish education need not end in the seven hour day of J-D High. The Spanish Club supplements classroom learning for those students interested. Its meetings' social atmosphere provided an opportunity for them to utilize their new skill by encouraging Spanish conversations. Guest speakers, who have visited or lived in Spanish places, ignited interest in the cultures and international relationships of those countries.

For those who wish to improve their French, the extra-curricular group to join is French Club. Members enjoyed putting their knowledge of the language to use through songs, games, slides and other activities. French Club earned money for their goal, a trip to Seattle to see a French company perform.

NHS Honors students have achieved high academic levels

The National Honor Society contains J-D High's most outstanding academic students. This select group of students must maintain a 3.0 grade point average and receive no D's to retain their membership. The society promotes leadership qualities and creates enthusiasm for scholarship, while developing character and a desire to render service.

The National Honor Society College Bowl was their major activity, however, during the second semester the society placed a thought for the day in the announcements. This would start everyone's day with a little "food for thought."

Advanced Chorus provides singing experiences and expanded performance opportunities for full groups or small ensembles. While building up singing abilities, they establish a good group spirit. During the holidays, advanced chorus gave two performances for their community. The chorus sang at the Thanksgiving Day Community Service and, as is their tradition, they give a Christmas concert. Along with these productions, our chorus went caroling through the halls of J-D High.

Beginners' Chorus through music

Beginners' Chorus provides a singing experience for those who like to sing music of all styles. Music ranges from African chanting songs to Christmas carols. The chorus is a group activity and it builds a group spirit among its members. It culminates its singing activities by performing in the Christmas and spring concerts.

Sue Hall searches for creative ideas.

For the first time in J-D High history the J-Bird staff has not only produced a paper but has created a supplement to it. The staff decided that there was too much news and too many happenings around the school that were left uncovered; the Peepers was created to cover the news and happenings.

The class met daily except when pressing deadlines came, then they worked after school.

Drama-Thespians is open to all students interested in any aspect of the theatre arts. Through workshops and actual stage experience, members have a chance to improve old, and learn new skills. By earning points, the members become National Thespians. These select few form the officers and inner circle of the club.

The club helped to sponsor the Metlakatla Drama Troupe give a performance in Juneau and it sponsored the play production class play, with the projected goal of performing in Haines.

Candystriping affords students an opportunity to obtain experience in the field of medicine by working at the hospital after school and during vacations. While serving within the community the candystriper is able to examine the medical field and determine whether it is a career she would like. It also develops insight into the importance of maintaining their own health.

Wait! Don't I get to make a last phone call?

Each meeting of the Rifle Club started out with a bang this year. During the two days each week that the club met, the more than forty members participated in regular shooting. Although marksmanship is a major part of the activities, the safe use of firearms and sportsmanship are more important rules for the shooters to learn. As the members improve their marksmanship they progress through a series of ranks which require a steadier hand and a more skillful eye.

Besides regular shooting, the Rifle Club competes by postal matches every month against hundreds of other high schools in the United States.

CrossCountry, J-Hi's

This year Juneau had a young and inexperienced team. This handicap was no obstacle for our hard working runners. Coach Stayley had this to say about the team, "This year's team worked harder and closer knit than any other team I have coached." The results are as follows:

SWAN LAKE INVITATIONAL

1. Juneau 20 pts.
2. Sitka 29 pts.

JUNEAU INVITATIONAL

1. Juneau 31 pts.
2. Sitka 51 pts.

SOUTHEAST CHAMPIONSHIP

1. Mt. Edgcomb 41 pts.
2. Juneau 44 pts.

Way over yonder...

that's where I'm bound.

Way over yonder is a place that I know
Where I can find shelter from hunger and cold
And the sweet tasting good life is easily found
Way over yonder - that's where I'm bound.

I know when I get there, the first thing I'll see
Is the sun shining golden - shining right down on me
Then trouble's gonna lose me - worry leave me behind
And I'll stand up proudly in true peace of mind.

Way over yonder is a place I have seen
In a garden of wisdom from some long ago dream.

Maybe tomorrow I'll find my way
To the land where the honey runs in rivers each day
And the sweet tasting good life is so easily found
Way over yonder - that's where I'm bound.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

As the class of 1972 glances back over the preceding four years we remember...

Our freshman class, being thoroughly initiated during the first two weeks of our high school career, managed to survive it all with the fearless leadership of: BRIAN DAUGHERTY, President, LIN SHAFER, Vice President, RENDA ROUNTREE, Secretary, and JANIE HAKALA, Treasurer.

In 1970, STU NELSON, President, RAY COLLINS, Vice President, LESLIE GRIGGS, Secretary, and KAREN WARD, Treasurer, stepped forward to guide us through a rather liberal year with open campus rights. Our Sophomore Variety Show, "Enter the Young," proved to be the highlight of the year, displaying undiscovered talent and imagination. Toward the close of the year we began to realize our forthcoming responsibilities of being upperclassmen.

During 1971, we were stifled by a strict administration, although, class officers TOM KOWALCZYK, President, CINDY TRICE, Vice President, KAREN WARD, Secretary, and JANIE HAKALA, Treasurer worked successfully to bridge the communication gap. The Junior Class Play, The Trojan Women, was a thought provoking tragedy, though its popularity was short-lived. "This Magic Moment," however, proved to be the best attended Junior Prom in the history of Juneau-Douglas High School.

By 1972, we had fully earned the title of "the Almighty Seniors." TOM KOWALCZYK moved into the position of ASB President as we elected four completely new class officers: DAVE GKLOTTE, President, DENI LANE, Vice President, LYNETTE ANDERSON, Secretary, and ARAL HAGERUP, Treasurer. Our Senior Class Play, David and Lisa, became the most popular and effective play in J-D High's theatrical history. The Senior Ball, "Moonlight Reflections," entertained a comfortable crowd in the Gold Room of the Baranof. We became most active in our attempts to house and entertain 500 visitors for the Southeast Alaska Basketball Tournament.

Having completed this major step in our lives we can look back with mixed emotions, but knowing that our todays and yesterdays are the blocks with which we build tomorrow. As our high school days pass before us, we look onward, to graduation, and to the beginning of new challenges...

THE SPIRIT OF '73'

Juneau-Douglas City Museum

"Peek-a-Boo!"

"You did it!"

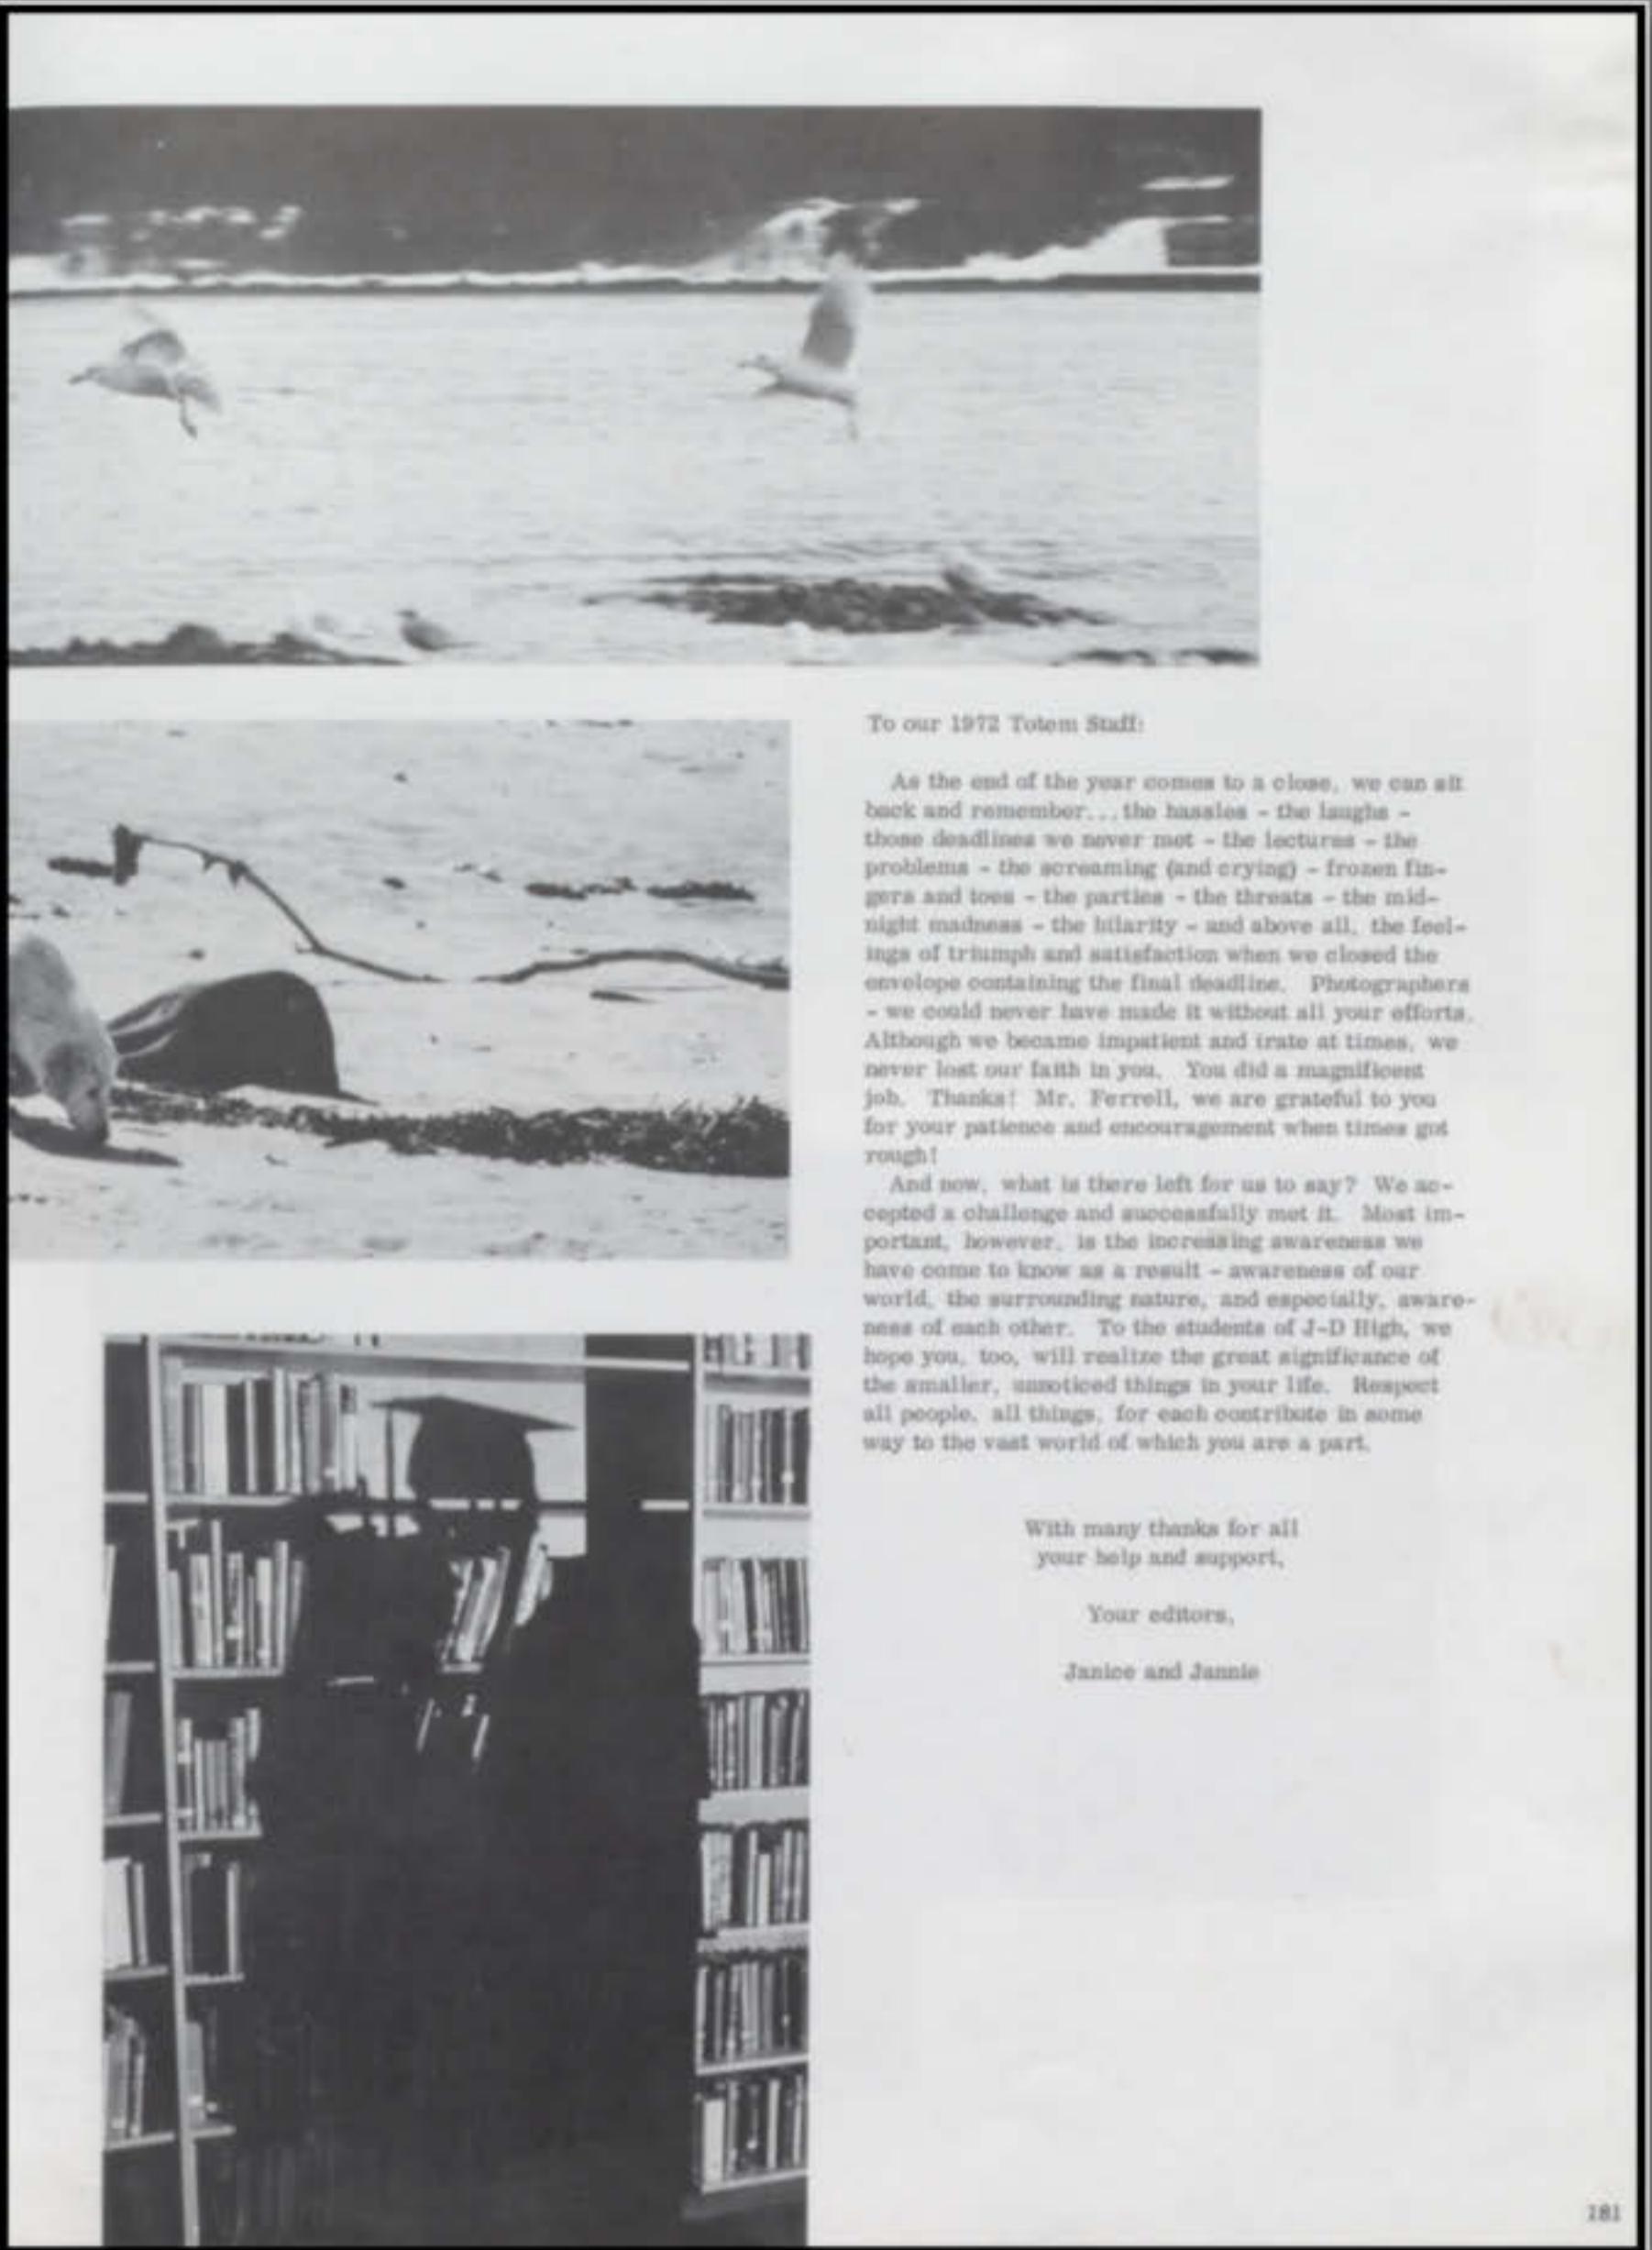

"Hot dog anyone?"

Joe Cool says, "HI!"

To our 1972 Totem Staff:

As the end of the year comes to a close, we can sit back and remember... the hassles - the laughs - those deadlines we never met - the lectures - the problems - the screaming (and crying) - frozen fingers and toes - the parties - the threats - the midnight madness - the hilarity - and above all, the feelings of triumph and satisfaction when we closed the envelope containing the final deadline. Photographers - we could never have made it without all your efforts. Although we became impatient and irate at times, we never lost our faith in you. You did a magnificent job. Thanks! Mr. Ferrell, we are grateful to you for your patience and encouragement when times got rough!

And now, what is there left for us to say? We accepted a challenge and successfully met it. Most important, however, is the increasing awareness we have come to know as a result - awareness of our world, the surrounding nature, and especially, awareness of each other. To the students of J-D High, we hope you, too, will realize the great significance of the smaller, unnoticed things in your life. Respect all people, all things, for each contribute in some way to the vast world of which you are a part.

With many thanks for all
your help and support,

Your editors,

Janice and Jannie
