

ATTACHMENT #4

Wednesday, July 11, 2012 5:59:46 PM Alaska Daylight Time

---

Subject: info

Date: Friday, June 29, 2012 9:04:09 AM Alaska Daylight Time

From: Wolf Steven

To: godkinjm@gci.net

Hello, Jerry; I appreciate your interest in public info. I live close to the airport and had a Cessna 182 for years here at the airport. One point of interest for me is the dike trail. My wife and I use the dike trail a lot to walk our dog. I understand the back side of the trail will be altered. The trail will no longer drop down onto the wet lands as the path/road on the top of the dike will be extended and all the trees and bushes on top of the dike will be plowed out. I wonder why this is necessary. Airport vehicles have access to the south side of the runway and pond at the far east end. Why is it necessary to take out all of those trees? And that ridiculous fence along side the steel foot bridge. Who is going to clean the dead fish off of it when the tide floats the spawned out salmon back out and they get hung up on the fence? It seems that some of the plans have been over the top and I wonder about oversight.

Steve Wolf