Subject: airfield compliment

Kenny Williams with Alaska Airlines stopped in the office today. He complimented the airfield crew on the great runway conditions they have been providing. Kenny was bringing in Ft 75 on Sunday and had to take a pretty good tail wind to land. In order for that to happen, the runway had to be in excellent landing condition. He trusted not only the people working out there, but the accuracy in reporting. He proudly showed his co-pilot something about Juneau.
