Strategic Planning Day Two

Mary found the following information:

Juneau Human Rights Commission
Existing Resource Lists for Juneau

Alaska Afterschool Network: Out of School Time Resources for Promoting Racial Equity and Deconstructing Prejudice [link]

Central Council Tlingit and Haida Indian Tribes of Alaska: [link]

Juneau Youth Services: Juneau and Other Community Resources [link]

Nami Juneau [link]:

- Juneau Community Resource Guide [Emergency, Crisis, Food, and Services]
- Juneau Mental Health Provider Directory

SAIL Services and Programs: [link]

UAS Student Engagement and Leadership: General Resources on Race in America [link]

Zach Gordon Youth Services: Resources for Youth and Families [link]

We might want to go to the links and figure out what is lacking related to the work we are doing? If we are thinking equitably, we need to figure out which other means of communication we want to put in place so that people know that those resources are there and what is available in the community.

Presentation by Mary:

Leave Your Print campaign to get more voices to the school's strategic planning process

11. Goes in phases -
  - a. Phase 1 - all idea
  - b. Phase 2 - feedback to all idea to help clarify
  - c. Phase 3 - voting (pairwise - pick the better of the two ideas - or you can move your voting blocks to the ideas you like)
  - d. Make sure to go to areas that were affected by what you are planning to do.
  - e. Phase 4 - Outcome
12. Able to use the community's voice to help others know that this, whatever this is, is the desire of the community.
13. Could be used to let people know we are here.

This could be used as part of our advisory capacity to the Assembly. Sometimes we open the door, but we can not respond to all who come in. We want to make sure that whatever steps forward we take is because we have the adequate resources to respond.

If we were to use the platform, it is an annual cost. Do we want to do one idea and concept and do one event outreach to gather information?

Doing an event might be good - Have a street fair sponsored with human rights, close down front street for $250, partner with other organizations, have something inclusive of the makeup of our community.

To be truly comprehensive about outreach we would do one event and then spend time going to the neighborhoods then have a calendar of groups meeting in their own neighborhoods. Could leverage that and have the other organizations doing the outreach to their clientele. We will have to reach out to the other organization as well.

Mary and Angel in charge of working out this type of outreach event.

Once we have data, in the questions we have for the community, we can do an educational campaign about whatever we discover.

Submitting our Annual Report on the 14th of June.

Being able to make contact with folks who are experiencing homelessness, getting in contact with the Juneau Community Foundation. Put on the Agenda for the next meeting to take a look at the Boards and Commissions for the city and look at what they are doing by reaching out and hope they are willing to share this information. We don't have to reinvent the wheel if they have gathered this information.
